Theme

In 1764 Gorham was the twentieth town to be incorporated in Maine. Founded as the direct result of a war with the Narragansett Indians, the town now stands on a tract of land that was granted to Captain John Gorham as a reward for his valor.

From the time of its settlement by Captain John Phinney and his son, Gorham grew despite the all-too-frequent attacks of hostile Indians. By the 19th century it was a thriving community, though much smaller than it is today. In 1889 Gorham High School, then located in the present fire barn, graduated its first class which consisted of three students. This year the graduating class will number over 120!

Gorham went down in history as being the first town to reserve for the young a specified place for recreational purposes. The Robie Recreation Park consisted of a baseball diamond which is now located between the high and junior high schools.

The History of Gorham is steeped in excitement and tradition; yet as the town has changed, so the way of life and the traditions have changed. To us, the students of Gorham High School, the past has blended with the present to become an integral part of us. We will base our lives on the past, but we will carry on the work of our forefathers in developing new traditions for our posterity.

Adult World Confronts 127 Graduates

The senior class of Gorham High School has had a busy year. At the first class meeting, despite the cry "new blood", David Graham was the overwhelming choice for president, making this his fourth consecutive year in this office.

Not only does the class of '65 have the distinction of containing the largest percentage of college-bound students yet to be graduated from G. H. S., but it also is the thankful possessor of more money than any previous graduating class.

This hard-earned money has been raised during the past four years in a variety of ways. Students have struggled through the dirt and toil of paper drives, bottle drives, and car washes.

They have put on food sales, raffles, suppers, and annual dances. Last fall they put on the traditional Mayor Dance at which one of their classmates, Henry "Chug" Scammon, was elected mayor. The other senior candidate was Stephen "The Honda Man" Cooper.

This year the students decided against having their annual Hunter's Breakfast as the steady decline of "hunter's appetites" seemed to make the early morning hours not worthwhile. Instead the class decided to sell G. H. S. charms.

It seems that this year's senior class has set up its own little contest with the rest of the school, the object of which is to see who can yell the loudest at pep rallies.

On June 17, with the class banquet, the Prom, and the usual flurry of activities over, the senior class of 1965 listened to the commencement speech of Dr. Paul York of Gorham State Teachers College and then filed out of the gym—the largest class ever to graduate from Gorham High School.

Our years at GHS contain many memories which we shall always cherish because of what they have represented to us. These days of tremendous change harbored learning and good times as well as the vital maturing progress which will enable us to adjust to any potential problems. # FALL

To the high school mind there comes a vague sense of invigorating crispness which displaces the mellowness of fading summer. The feeling—a composite of renewed mental vigor, sadness, and a tingling in the blood—is the best for going back to school, cheering at soccer games, playing in the school band, attending the State Cross-Country meeting at Orono, electing school mayor, enjoying the Dramatics Club play, studying, and kicking your way home through fallen leaves.

Fall is wonderful . . . Fall is wonder.

Soccermen Rebuild

Right: Captain Danny Campbell runs up to aid Paul Williams. Paul was one of the outstanding halfbacks.

Phil Loura, a senior, cries out as he prepares for a kick. Teammates Danny Campbell and Ray Charest can also be spotted on the play.

Under New Coach

Under the direction of the new coach, Mr. George Stevenson, the Gorham High Soccer team had a successful building season, although posting a 2-win, 8-loss, 2-tie record.

However, five of these losses were by only one goal. Next year's team has nine lettermen returning and should be a threat to the Triple-C title with a strong defense and good scoring possibilities.

Standouts for the past season were Captain Dan Campbell, Tim Libby, Phil Loura, Alan Burnell, and Fred Austin. These players showed the hustle and ability reminiscent of the Triple-C champions two years ago.

Tim Libby, center forward, was one of our most valuable goal makers this year.

Horace Fogg, a senior, proved very valuable throughout the '64 season by blocking many would-be goals from their mark.

Distance-Men Unbeaten in Regular Season

Gorham High School's Cross Country Team has remained undefeated for eight years. Even though the Gorham seven placed fourth in the State Class-M cross country meet at Orono on October 29, they did defeat every team they ran against during the regular season.

Gorham's first meet of the season was with Scarborough High. Gorham entered eleven runners and placed eleven runners before the first Redskin crossed the line. Gorham's next victim was Gould Academy by a slim two points—27-29. Gilman placed first for Gorham in this meet. John Peterson proved the winning factor by out-sprinting a man from Gould on the final straight-away.

Next, Gorham easily beat this year's State S champions, Richmond High, by a score of 23-38. Then Gorham journeyed to Bowdoin where a five-place tie for first gave the Rams a 15-50 victory.

Gorham was just barely beaten by Gray-New Gloucester for the Triple-C title on a rugged 2.6 mile course at the Gorham Country Club. This bad luck seemed to haunt the Rams through their next two big meets for they placed fourth in both the Southwestern and the State. Fine performances were turned in by all the boys this year. Coach Evans will be losing two seniors through graduation, Frank Burnell, and David Graham.

Michael Gilman placed third at the Triple-C Cross Country Meet held at the Gorham Country Club on October 16th.

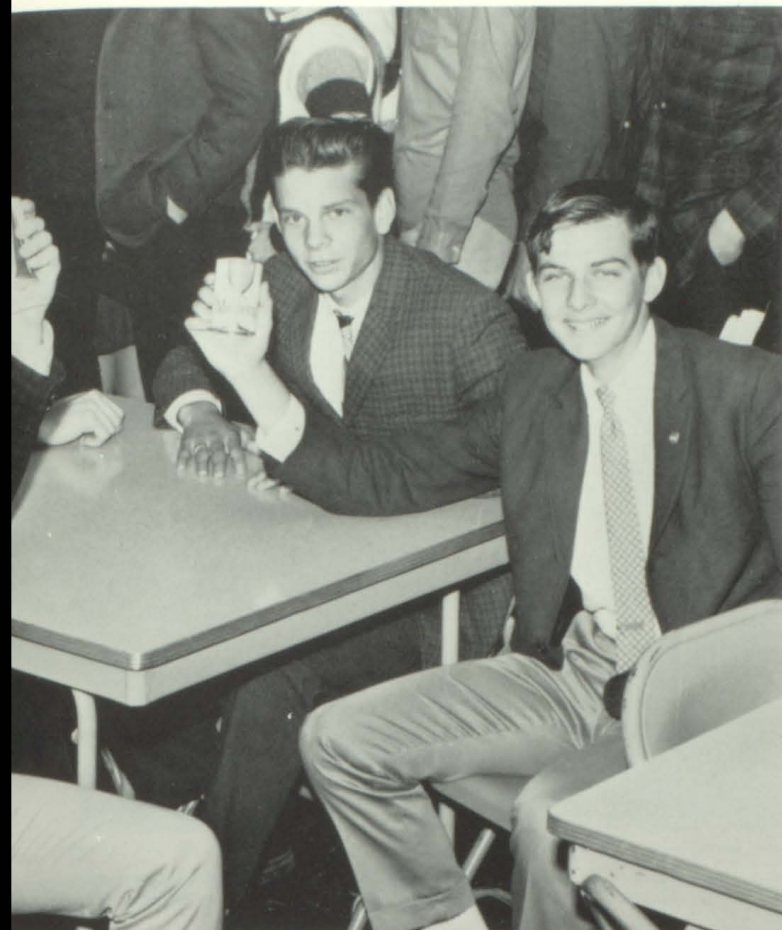

Dean Evans has coached the Cross Country Team to victories in all Triple C meets prior to 1964, and in three State Championships in 1960, 1962, 1963.

Gorham Rams (at left) placed second in the Triple-C, fourth in the South-western, and fourth in the State meets.

Nothing like a can of Metrecal for a hungry athlete! M. Gilman, M. Towle, F. Burnell, D. Graham, G. Miller, S. Keehlwetter.

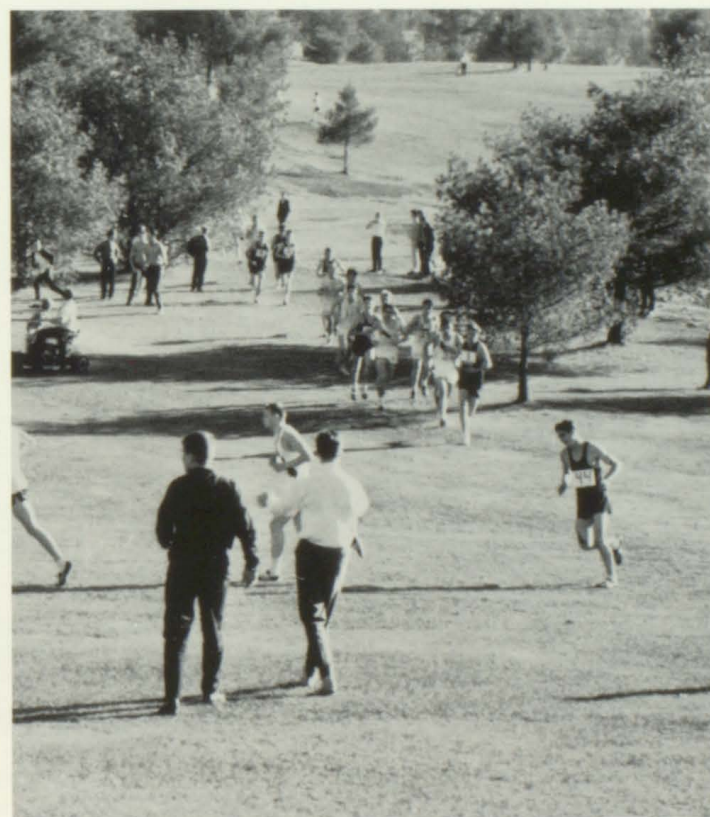

Gorham runners, Mike Gilman and Mike Towle, take a well-deserved rest after another grueling 2.4 mile run.

The Gorham High School Bowling Team was started in 1962 when several girls thought there should be a sport for those who did not make basketball field hockey, or just were not athletically inclined. Mrs. Ann Distant, then Miss Clark, was chosen as the advisor. The teams were a big hit, and in 1963-64 it was equally as successful. Also during the year the boys decided to establish bowling teams. Their teams did very well, holding the interest of enough boys to form 10 teams this past year. The girls now have 8 regular bowling teams.

High scorers for the past year were: Anita Nugent, Linda Metivier, David Sprague, Philip Weisman and Alan Wentworth.

Right: P. Weisman, A. Mills, A. Caruso. 50 boys participate in intramural bowling on every Wednesday night.

"Makes ya wanna holla' hidy ho!" Wayne Wagner is one of the 50 boys who participate in intramurals.

This year the Schola staff has endeavored to produce a book that is truly representative of Gorham High School life. We have attempted to use as many new ideas and as much originality as possible, while still retaining some of the basic traditions associated with the Schola.

For the first time hard covers, definite margins, color on division pages, and a seasonal order have been used. Many of these ideas were obtained by our editor, Susan Carr, when she attended the School Press Institute at Syracuse University, New York last summer.

The staff members have been well-trained for their jobs, having begun apprenticeship in their sophomore year. In this program under the guidance of the editor, they learned about writing copy, the fundamentals of layout, planning and photography.

Publishing the Schola entails an immense amount of hard work for all those involved; yet if the finished product truly represents many facts of life at GHS, then we will be satisfied.

The Gorham High School mixed chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Nina B. Bailey, has again participated in many of its annual musical activities, such as the Christmas Concert, Parents Night Assembly, and Western Maine Music Festival. Several of the students have gone to All-State and the Western Maine Concert Festival as extra Musical experience. During the summer vacation Michael Towle, and Doreen Doyle went to the Raymond Music Camp for a week of voice training.

The Gorham High School Band has come a long way since it was first started by the Lion's Club in 1961-1962 under the direction of Syd Lerman. Now under the leadership of Ronald Martin, the band has approximately 25 members. The present officers are Suzanne Ouelette, president; Deborah Alden, secretary; Margaret Taylor, treasurer; and Beverly Mann, librarian.

The band has an average of four practices a week—three during school at regular scheduled classes and one on Wednesday night. The practices are long and hard, but in the end, the sour notes and wrong entrances give way to the final production and happy smiles.

Watching the Gorham High School majorettes execute one of their snappy routines, GHSers often find themselves wondering why we waited until last year to start something like this. With Eileen Berry as head majorette, the girls have had a busy time giving food sales in order to raise money for new uniforms. Their colorful maroon and white uniforms, made by some of the mothers, are now a part of the wonderful tradition of GHS; and with the co-operation of the band, the girls often do their routines at rallies. Although they find it necessary to practice three nights a week, the majorettes don't mind. They are well paid for their long hours when the sound of applause rings forth from the bleachers.

Eileen Berry, our head majorette, has been a majorette for three years. This is her second year as head.

AFS . . . Walk Together, Talk Together

Ahoy, mates! A windblown Holly Shaw helps navigate the AFS ship "The Seven Seas," on the way home from Finland.

Since it was begun in the spring of 1964, the AFS Club has been one of the busiest organizations at GHS. Its purpose is to promote the American Field Service in Gorham, to raise money to bring another foreign-exchange student to GHS, and to assist in sending abroad any students chosen for the Americans Abroad program. The chief money-raising project of the year was the annual AFS Fair at which over $800 was made. Club members also sponsored an AFS night at which American Abroad students gave talks. The proceeds were used to buy Scholars for former GHS exchange students and also to start an AFS showcase for the school.

Walk together, talk together all ye peoples of the earth, for then and only then shall ye have peace! This one sentence from the Bible embodies all the hopes, aims, and promises of a strange and wonderful program called the American Field Service: peace—between people, between communities, between countries, and most of all, peace within one single human being.

I will never forget my ecstasy of May 23, 1964 when I received my acceptance letter from AFS, New York, saying that I had been chosen as an American Abroad to Finland. It was a dream come true for me—something that I had longed for with all my heart.

On June 27th, with an open heart and mind, I set out on the greatest adventure of my life! With some 540 other anxious, thrilled, and somewhat scared teen-agers, I listened to the encouraging words of Mr. Stephen A. Gallati, the head of AFS—"As you cross that gangplank, you leave America behind you, everything behind you. But there is a new life ahead of each and every one of you . . . You deserve the very best. God bless you all!" These words were especially meaningful to us as Mr. Gallati, who had devoted his entire life to AFS, died only a few weeks later. We were the last group he ever saw off—he gave us that extra incentive.

The trip on "The Seven Seas" was an experience in itself! We had language and orientation classes each day to help the 54 of us going to Finland to become acquainted with the language and customs of our new country. Aside from our country group activities, there were numerous other things to keep us busy: public forums, hootenannies, dances, movies, masquerade parties, talent shows, pool-packing parties (someone turned on the water) an international sing, and on and on.

The voyage passed quickly, and on July 7th, the screams outside my door told me we were about to dock in Rotterdam. On July 9th, after a 50 hour train ride with no sleep (the steel baggage racks were too hard, and besides, I have a phobia about falling off high places), we arrived in Finland.

When I met my Finnish family, I knew immediately that I would have a wonderful summer—despite the fact that only my sister, Kirsti, spoke English. First there was isä, or father. A kind, happy man, he always used to beam with pride when he said an English word. Äiti, or mother, delighted in teaching me Finnish and always used to call me "makkara kissa" or sausage cat because I ate so many sausages! I guess that is where all the extra poundage came from! Tapani, my 15 year old brother, was really shy at first. He would not even speak Finnish to me! He soon got over that, though; and one day, deciding I did not know enough about farm machinery, he sat me down for one hour and explained it all to me, in Finnish! Mummu, or grandmother, loved to ready the sauna for me, and although we had difficulty in communicating, we got along beautifully together. Kirsti, my 17 year old sister, was an angel. We enjoyed many of the same things, and her translating was indispensable!

Päivä! Holly's Finnish family, the Arvi Karjalainens—äiti (mother), Tarpani, Kirsti, isä (father)—of Vammala, Finland.

MISS HOLLY NATHALIE SHAW

Although my stay in Finland was short, I had the opportunity to see much of the country. Lapland, where I spent nearly two weeks, impressed me the most. The first time I saw it was in the rain; and its rolling fells, shrouded in a blue mist, seemed distant and ethereal. Trees grew everywhere—bent into the grotesque shapes of rheumatic old men, and everything seemed indefinite and hazy. I watched reindeer munching grass near our tents, so much a part of this rugged, lonely world I found myself in. While at Lake Inari, far above the Arctic Circle, I went fishing under a sunlit sky at 3 o'clock in the morning! I also took a sauna, the Finnish steam bath, that reached 216°! Oh, how I loved the sauna!

Soon, too soon, it was time to leave. I had come to love the Karjalainens dearly. They had taught me many things: independence, self-reliance, courage, understanding, and inner peace . . . They had taught me that one does not have to be born into a family to become a part of it. Watching their faces fade away and knowing I might never see them again was one of the hardest moments of my life. But that is AFS. You meet people, and you say goodbye; but you never forget. It is all wonderful. It is the most wonderful part of my life.

Many small rivers make a great river—a river of peace covering the whole earth. I hope I contributed to such a river.

Sue Carr and Sally Chandler were selected as delegates to Girl's State at Colby College for the week of June 13-19.

Dick Haskell, John Lyle, David Graham, and Bill Moberg were the Boy's State candidates at the University of Maine, June 14-20.

Right: Marvin Densmore rides in his favorite F-o-r-d as Dawn Libby looks on.

On your mark—get set—Go! Bill Howe, Dick Haskell, and Danny Haskell are among the many Honda lovers around.

Mayor Hank injected plenty of school spirit into our rallies and was always TIED up with some conspiracy.

Hank or Bust!

At the Mayor Dance held on Friday, November 13, Henry Scammon (alias Hank, alias Chug) was chosen from a field of eight candidates. Each class selected two of its members to represent it during the campaign. The other candidates were: Dennis Morton and Stanley Keehlwetter, juniors; Wesley Wright and Henry Bachelder, sophomores; Paul Young and James Rickards, freshmen.

A week of hard campaigning was climaxed on Friday with an assembly. Each candidate presented a skit to the gathered student body. That evening Hank was elected by those students attending the dance. Each person recorded their one vote on the back of their ticket and dropped it into the ballot box. As Hank was proclaimed the winner, the "Marauders" struck up the sweet, melodic strains of "Chug-a-Lug."

As mayor, Hank has many new duties such as announcing the starting line-ups at the home games, being disc-jockey at the dances following these games, and being the master-of-ceremonies at our rallies where he has made some truly unique entrances.

Hank has certainly made an office long considered an honorary position a little stronger by his participation in all these activities. He has surely made us realize that work and responsibility go hand-in-hand with being mayor.

Burnell Heads Class for Second Year

At the first class meeting of the Junior Class, Alan Burnell was elected class president for the second consecutive year. Other officers that were elected are David Deas, vice-president; Mary Fogg, secretary; and Terry Hadlock, treasurer.

Junior class members of the GHS Student Council are Dean Bridges, Burnell, Deas, Jo Anne Furman, Mike Gilman, Peter Hooper, and Margaret Taylor.

This year's methods for building up the class treasury for graduation funds included a class supper, a dance, a carwash, and the inevitable collection of class dues. In the past the class has also had paper and bottle drives.

The junior candidates for mayor of Gorham High School were Stanley Keelwhetter and Dennis Morton.

WINTER

Winter is here with its fluffy white snow, its frozen lakes, its fragrant pines, and its memorable festivities. Here, too, is the cold weather, guaranteed to stir the most drowsy of students into vigorous activity. Time has flown swiftly, and suddenly we must stop and realize that life at GHS has settled down to a busy whirl of things to do. Everywhere our GHSers are evident, for winter is the best time for schussing down the slopes with the Ski Club, swimming at the YMCA with the swimming team, trying to out-yell one another at the pep rallies, working for the Key Club and the AFS Club, attending the dances, supporting the basketball teams at their exciting games, and burying our faces in the cool whiteness of new-fallen snow.

Winter is lively . . . Winter is life.

G.H.S. Hoopsters Capture Triple C Crown

The Gorham High Rams had another highly successful season this year under Coach Dean Evans. The well-balanced, free-wheeling combo won the Triple-C League Championship for the second time in three years, as well as leading the Western-L Division at the close of the season. The starting five were co-captains Eric Bachelder and Sherb Bridges, both seniors, and juniors Pete Hooper, Terry Hadlock, and Marty Magnusson.

With an over all win-loss record of 15-3, the Rams of 1964-1965 can certainly be considered one of the most successful teams in Gorham High's history. Good shooting, rebounding, and determination combined with Mr. Evans' coaching overcame odds against the team such as height and experience.

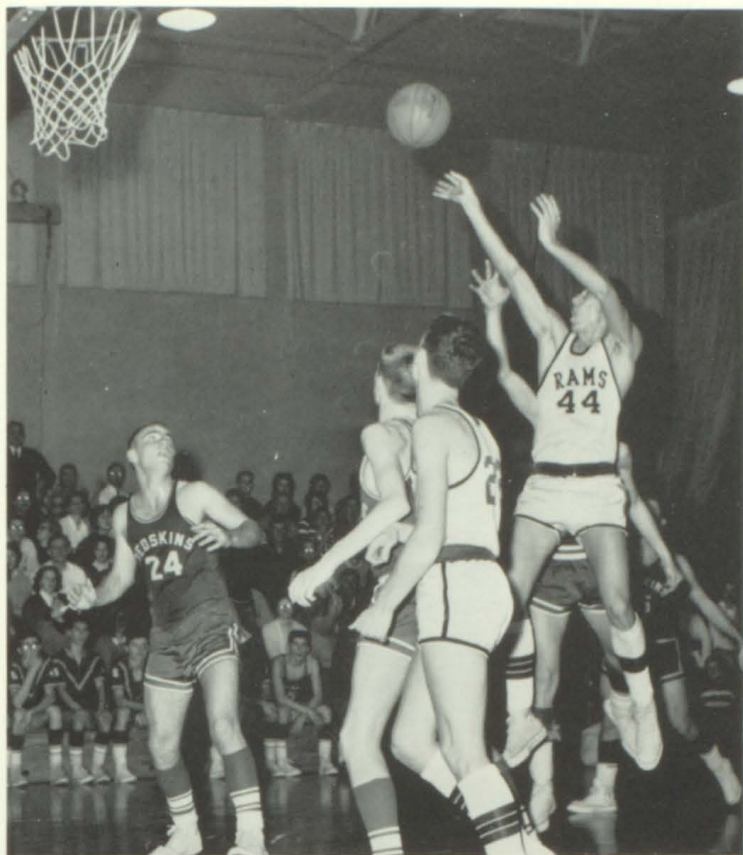

The Rams finished up the regular season by trouncing the Bonney Eagle Scots 77-44 with Eric Bachelder scoring 23 points followed closely by Marty Magnusson's 20.

Center, Pete Hooper, became the first Ram in many a year to score more than sixty points in two games. Along with outstanding rebounding, Pete tallied 30 points against the Falmouth Yachtsmen, and 31 points in the Windham game the preceding week.

A scrappy offense was the big key to Gorham's successful year in basketball. The Rams finished with 1,161 points or a 14 game average of 72.6 points per game. Six games were won by over 20 points with the closest game being with Cape Elizabeth when Pete Hooper's foul shot dissipated any of the Caper's hopes of an overtime.

Eric Bachelder and Marty Magnusson battle to get the rebound for the Rams as Gorham dumps Greely 78-53.

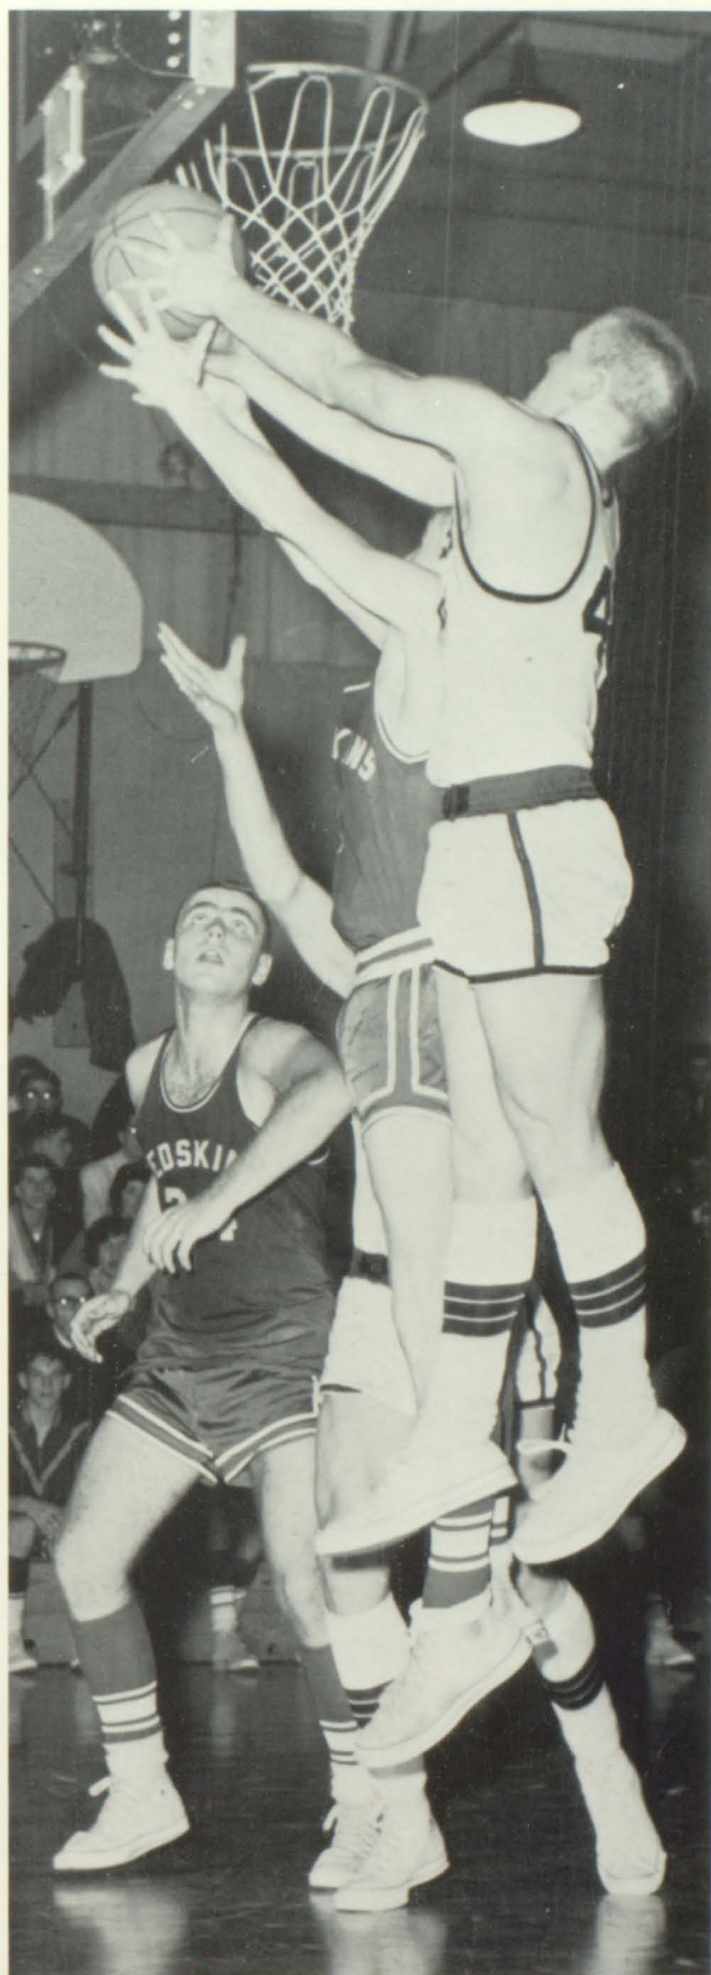

Pete Hooper, who scored over 30 points in several games, tries another shot.

Rams Enter Tourney as Top-Seeded Team

Terry Hadlock, a two-year varsity squad member, made up for his lack of height with some fine outside shooting.

Gorham High's basketball team entered the Class L tournament playoffs in first place. At the first tournament game, the Rams defeated the Kennebunk team 59-54. Four of the Ram's starters scored in double figures: high scorer was Peter Hooper with 16 points; Eric Bachelder, 14 points; Terry Hadlock, 13 points; and Marty Magnusson, 11 points. Also scoring were Sherbie Bridges and Bliane Miller with 2 and 3 points.

By beating Kennebunk, Gorham gained the opportunity to play Falmouth High School, who had previously upset Cape Elizabeth.

The Rams started the game with fine shooting and led at the end of the first quarter, 17-11. Gorham continued to play well in the second quarter, surviving with a 34-30 at the half. During the second half, the Rams' shooting seemed to fail, while the Falmouth team came on strong. Falmouth finally won the game, 76-64.

Despite the Rams' loss, Marty Magnusson was the high scorer of the game with 23 points.

Other scorers were Terry Hadlock, 9 points; Peter Hooper, 7 points; Sherb Bridges, 3 points; Bob Gould, 2 points; and Eric Bachelder, 20 points.

Gorham has many fine players from the Junior Class returning, thus giving the Rams an advantage to become next year's Class-L champions.

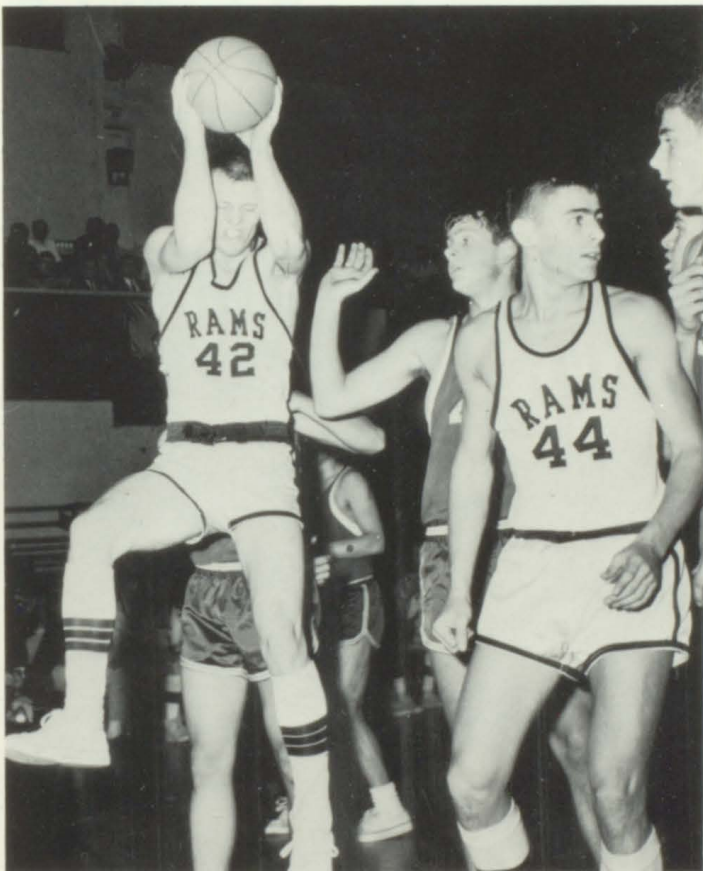

With a 7-point lead at the half, Gorham opened up a 44-28 third quarter bulge before the Bunkies started a comeback.

Pete Hooper and Eric Bachelder were Gorham's leading scorers with 16 and 14 points respectively.

Breaking through the paper of the traditional hoop proves to be quite a task for Sherb Bridges. Also pictured are Sally Chandler and Sue Carr.

Co-captain Eric Bachelder (42) and junior Peter Hooper (44) are two of Gorham's regular starting five.

Marty Magnusson, an invaluable junior on this year's first string, heads for another one of the 11 points he scored against the Bunkies.

Gorham Jayvees—Yea! Here the cheerleaders lead the GHSers in a cheer at a Scarborough Rally.

Toward Precision

As the tension grows high at a basketball game, the cheerleaders stand and lead the Gorham High fans in a spirited cheer for G.H.S. Their cheers, the idea for which was brought home from a Springfield cheering convention two years ago, were at first very controversial. However, now that the newness has worn off, most of the students seem to have accepted the style—in fact they have even added their own side-effects. The cheerleaders were really surprised at one of the games this year when GHSers suddenly began yelling "swish, swish, click, click" in the middle of "Success"—the cheer that has proved to be our team's goal for the season. In fact they were so surprised that they forgot the end of the cheer!

Striving always to project personality and to achieve complete precision in every movement, the J.V. and Varsity cheerleaders practice two hours a week under the supervision of Mrs. Ernest Emery. Last summer five representatives of the two squads attended the cheering convention at Springfield, Mass., and won several ribbons for their work.

Aside from leading the cheers at basketball games, GHS cheerleaders have distinguished themselves by being the first ones in the area to cheer at soccer games. Furthermore they have done their best to arouse school spirit for important games by putting on pep rallies.

JV's Toil Through Rough League Schedule

Alan Burnell, junior, charges by Bonney Eagle. Gorham defeated the Scots, 64-38.

Even though the Junior Varsity team only compiled a 7-8 won-lost record, there were many outstanding performers on the squad. Dave Deas was the leading scorer on the team with a 10.4 points per game average. He was followed closely by Henry Bachelder, 10 point average, Neal Libby, 8.1 average, and Jim Good who averaged 7.7 points a game.

The season was highlighted with victories over the strong teams from Falmouth, Greely, and Scarborough. The team also looked impressive in the close game losses to Cape Elizabeth, Lisbon, and Falmouth.

The remainder of the squad includes Alan Burnell, Russell Outhuse, Mitchell Walker, Stephen Peters, Paul Young, Jim Rickards, Gilbert Labrecque, Lincoln Dennison, John Murchie, and Charles Ernest. Michael Humphrey was the manager.

Valuable experience was gained on Coach Beedy's team by Varsity squad members Deas, Burnell, Good and Bachelder.

Scarborough 62-16

Girls varsity basketball has proved to be a rewarding and memorable combination of competition, teamwork, and fun. This season the girls retired with a well-balanced record of six wins and four losses. Special emphasis was placed on perfecting the new technique of having one stationary forward in the back-court and one roving forward who covers the court.

The most spectacular game of the year was with Scarborough in January when Scarborough was defeated by forty-six points. The first game with Cape Elizabeth was won by Gorham with a sixteen point margin, but Gorham bowed to Cape's five-point lead in the second encounter. High scorers for the year were seniors Nancy Krieton and Sandy Day. Nancy also won the foul shooting championship by connecting on twenty-five out of thirty tries. Despite the loss of Sally Buck, Mary Ann Farrington, Carol Carmichael, Jo Ann Morton, Sandy Day, and Nancy Kreiton, next year's team will carry on with juniors Donna Martin, Marion Ivers, Jo Ann Furman, and Margaret Taylor.

Other game results were: Gorham 30, Windham 59; Gorham 36, Scarborough 21; Gorham 25, Bonney Eagle 39; Gorham 56, Yarmouth 21; Gorham 35, Bonney Eagle 41; Gorham 65, Yarmouth 29; Gorham 44, Falmouth 22; Gorham 43, Cape 27; Gorham 62, Scarborough 16; and Gorham 32, Cape 37.

Carol Carmichael jumps for a rebound in the game with Scarborough High School. Carol was a great asset to the girls team.

Successful 7-3 Record

The junior varsity basketball girls ended their season with a 7-3 record. Co-captains Virginia Creswell and Mary Honan and their girls had their greatest victory over Bonney Eagle 30-16. In that game Jo Ann Rollins scored 12 points and was closely followed by Nancy Day with 11. When they again played Bonney Eagle, they were defeated by a slight margin 22-24. Nancy Day was again a high scorer for Gorham, contributing 20 points. The girls won both games over Cape Elizabeth. The first one was won 30-20 and the second was 27-25. They also had two more victories over Scarborough. 22-17 was the score on Dec. 18 when Jo Ann Rollins scored 9 points. The girls won 28-21 on Jan. 22 when Nancy Day helped with 15 points. The Gorham girls lost to Windham 7-27, to Falmouth 20-35, and also to Yarmouth 21-22. They won their second game with Yarmouth 23-18. Other team members who helped during the season were: Jane Billingham, Jean and Judy Kimball, Sue Kuusela, Melinda Sawyer, Chris Weisman, and Dorothy Wentworth.

Get that ball, Jeanne! Jeanne Kimball, a sophomore on the J.V. squad, plunges into the melee.

Key Club Continued Outstanding Service

The Gorham High School Key Club, aided by its Kiwanis advisors, Mr. John Flight and Mr. Gerald Knight, and by its faculty advisor, Mr. Dean Evans, is a service club. Our purpose is to help the school and community.

The club was founded in 1962 under the sponsorship of the Gorham Kiwanis Club. To obtain its objective, the Key Club has helped the Kiwanis Club with its annual Horse Show and its new ski slope, has raised money to help the Lubec High School Band represent Maine at the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D.C., has placed waste barrels around the high school, and has sponsored Susan Carr as a delegate to Dirigo Girls State. A special Scholarship Fund was set up this year so that the annual Key Club Scholarships could be increased.

However, the club is not all work and no play. For example, there are also Interclub meetings. Our best Interclub of year was held at the Windham Reformatory with the Cheverus. In our Monthly Report form for that month, we tried to have the Interclub counted as a Vocational Guidance meeting, but New England District Headquarters only counted it as a Model Assembly and expressed surprise that we were able to escape.

In closing this resume of our year in Key Clubbing, we would like once more to thank some of the people who helped us in our service program. We would like to thank Sue Carr for her help in decorating bulletin boards and gymnasiums, and we should like to join all the Key Clubs before us in thanking Mr. Flight and Mr. Knight for their advice and assistance.

Through the combined efforts of our hard-working group, many successful projects were completed under our president, John Lyle.

Among the organizations at Gorham High School are those designed to prepare students for future careers in home economics, teaching, and nursing. These clubs meet regularly with faculty advisors to plan lectures, trips, and fund-raising projects.

At the A.F.S. Fair of 1964, the Future Homemakers planned the winning booth where they sold stuffed animals and aprons made by members. Other activities of the school year included giving a fashion show and making Christmas decorations.

The Future Teachers Club also had a busy year. Mrs. Angeline Colpitts, guidance director at Gorham High, gave the first program of the year with a talk on "Diversified Experiences as a Teacher." Club members also attended a lecture by Alan Milbury of Gorham State Teachers College on audio-visual aids and watched a session of the special class at the Village Elementary School. To help an aspiring teacher with book expenses, $25 is raised annually.

The Medical Careers Club has heard many interesting speakers including Miss Virginia Whitcomb, "Social Work;" Dr. Harold Burnham, "Careers in Health;" and Dr. Brown, "Alcoholism." The members trekked to Augusta to attend the Health Careers Conference sponsored by the Maine Tuberculosis and Health Association. They toured the Augusta State Hospital and the Veterans Administration Hospital at Togus. In February they planned a trip to the Pineland Hospital in Pownai and in May a trip to the Children's Hospital in Boston. For the first time the club is offering a scholarship.

Students Took Active Interest in GHS Life

Fans prove Gorham spirit never fails by following the Triple-C champs all the way to the Lewiston Armory.

G.H.S. majorettes inspired school spirit with their precision and intricate routines.

Eric Sawtelle, sophomore, was one of the typical Gorham fans who took one of the three spectator's busses to the Tournaments.

A big asset to G.H.S. were the "Marauders," T. Libby, D. Deas, E. Sawtelle, and W. Moberg.

Sophomore Class Elects Candidates

This year's candidates for GHS Mayor from the Sophomore class were Henry Bachelder and Wesley Wright. The two boys got together and put on a Roaring 20's skit for the finale of the long poster campaign. They were accompanied by a harem of daring young "flappers" who added to their trying, yet in vain, cause.

In October the candidates for Miss Page One from the Sophomore Class were Deborah Bridges, Beth Spencer, Julie Stearns, and Christine Weisman. Julie Stearns and Deborah Bridges repeating as Miss Key Club candidates.

At the first meeting of the Sophomore Class, Erick Sawtelle was elected president; Henry Bacheldor, vice-president; Dorothy Wentworth, secretary; and Sharon Caruthers, treasurer. The class also chose Jimmy Good and Christine Weisman to be their representatives on the Student Council.

The class has worked very hard during the last two years to earn money for their future graduation. Not only have they battled their way through paper drives, bottle drives, and food sales; but also they have sponsored a dance and a raffle as this year's big projects. Much hard work has been done by the entire class, and they have really enjoyed working together.

SPRING

As the warm sunlight, the fresh air, and the blossoming flowers herald the arrival of spring, GHSers suddenly find themselves stirring with a new thirst for life. The year has flown swiftly; and now students can be heard wistfully remarking that, "Not long ago the freshmen were confusedly milling about the halls with impossible schedule cards and dazed expressions." At last we have entered the final and busiest phase of Gorham High Life; and with a certain nostalgia, students plunge into the countless last-minute activities of spring. Now is the time for catching the events of the track meets, singing in the operetta, playing softball with the girls, being tapped for Quill and Scroll and NHS, awaiting college acceptance letters, rushing in last-minute publications of the Ramster and Schola, having loads of fun at the AFS Fair, supporting the baseball team, cramming for finals, filling out the social calendar with the Prom and Graduation, reflecting on the wonderful GHS traditions that have added so much to our lives, and happily drinking in the wonder of being alive.

Spring is the beginning . . . Spring is the farewell.

Ram Glovemen Finish With 6-5 Record

Coach Richard Beedy's Rams had one of the most successful seasons of recent years by compiling a six win, five loss record. Four of the five losses were by only one run.

David Sprague, sophomore shortstop, was the leading batter for the Rams with a .472 average. Rugged catcher Terry Hadlock and lanky pitcher Horace Fogg clobbered three homers apiece while Hadlock led the Runs-Batted-In-Department with 13. The team batting average closed out at a fine .298, while the Rams held a respectable .899 fielding average.

Horace Fogg led the combine in having a three win, two loss record while pitching 31 1/3 innings. Sophomore Peter Hooper received 2 wins against 2 losses seeing 29 innings of action.

Senior Mike Webb, with his slow junk pitching held the lowest era with 1.98 earned runs per game.

Horace Fogg, '65 co-captain, had a three win, two loss record in 31 1/3 innings.

The Rams closed the 1964 baseball season with a .298 batting average and a .899 fielding average.

Terry Hadlock, a junior this year, has been an outstanding member of the Gorham nine.

When only a sophomore, David Sprague was the leading batter for the Gorham Rams.

Softball Team Captured Perfect Record

In the '64 season a well-proportioned team made up of three freshmen, five sophomores, and five junior girls ragged to a record of 5 victories and no defeats under coach Ann Distant.

Ten of the girls were veterans of the '63 team and soon got back into shape after the season opened. The team was spurred on further by the ability and enthusiasm of its three freshman members: Alysan Martin, Virginia Creswell, and Mary Honan.

The exuberant fieldsters often left their rival teams in amazement, for in one of the games as many as 46 runs could be counted for the Ramettes. Although the team didn't have such an outstanding score at all of their games, it managed to win each game by at least ten points.

The team hopes the loss of five seniors won't make a difference in their success, for these five girls have held first-string positions for several years and the rest of the girls may find it difficult to fill in at first.

The number of spectators at the girls' games increased with each success.

Gorham Spikers Place Fifth in State Meet

The GHS track team had a very successful season last year, winning three of its five meets. This season looks even more impressive with many of last year's lettermen returning. Among those returning, plus their strongest events, are Mike Gilman, javelin and pole vault; Frank Burnell, 220 and 440; Steve Cooper, 220; Dennis Morton, high jump; Roger Minard, shot put; Bond Farrington shot put; Jim Good, 440; Mike Towle, two mile, Larry Merrifield, two mile; Gary Miller, two mile; and Peter Larrabee, pole vault.

One of the most promising new runners on the Gorham High School track team, Steve Cooper is seen here taking a commanding lead over his opponent.

"Will ya let go of that . . . stick?!" screams Wally as he tries to yank the baton from Skip Burnell.

Dash away, dash away, dash away all—Larry Merrifield, Gary Miller, and Mike Towle round a turn in a battle for first place.

David Graham, one of the top men on the track team this year, takes a first in the half mile as the Rams beat Lisbon High at Gorham.

"Why didn't ya tell me that sand was hot?!" screams Dean Bridges as he broad jumps nineteen feet.

"What a time to get acrophobial!" ruminates Denny Morton as he hurdles over the high jump bar while Mr. Swierzynski looks on.

After an exhausting Triple-C track meet, Gorham High School athletes collapse on their way to the locker room.

Trackmen Paced by Burnell and Gilman

Last year's team was sparked by Walter Young, Triple-C jump champion; by Barry Belyea, two mile standout; and by Erwin Williams, star of the weight events. The team weakness this year, according to Coach John Swierzynski, will be in the short distance sprints, but Swierzynski is hopeful of gaining some help from the freshman class.

This year's schedule should be tougher than usual with the Triple-C schools, Bonney Eagle, Falmouth, Cape Elizabeth and Scarborough becoming stronger as they gain experience.

The addition of a fiber glass pole will make pole vaulters Mike Gilman and Peter Larrabee able to soar to new heights by making ample use of the bend of the pole. The team will also make very good use of the new whirlpool bath which was purchased with the money raised on the magazine drive.

This year's co-captains are senior, Frank Burnell, and junior, Mike Gilman. It is a real honor for Gilman to be elected co-captain this year since it is a rarity for a junior to be elected captain of a sport.

Jeff Sevens prepares to heave discus over a hundred feet to chalk up another 5 points for the Gorham Rams.

The Gorham High School Art Club was begun last year under the supervision of Mr. John Swierzynski with Dotty Wentworth as president, Paulette Grondin as vice-president, and Virginia Creswell as secretary-treasurer.

The organization was established primarily as an art-appreciation club, some of the members attending the Portland Sweat

Museum in the fall. Tentative plans are being made for another trip later this year—perhaps to the Boston Museum of Fine Art.

Last year some of the club members painted the scenery for the operetta, "Pirates of Penzance", and helped decorate the booths for the school's annual A.F.S. fair.

Debating Club Finishes Successful Season

The Gorham High School Debating Club grew from the efforts of students and teachers during the spring of 1963. Debating done as assigned work in several English classes aroused enthusiasm which led to the organization of a debating club in the fall.

The 1963-64 season brought little success for the debating team. There was much to learn and a difficult debate topic to argue. The national high school debate topic for that year dealt with the proposed Medicare Plan and involved many intricate economic matters.

The 1964-65 school year found the club very successful in pre-season debates with other members of the Bates debating league. The teams Gorham has debated include Deering, Chevrus, Bonney Eagle, Sanford, and others. The topic for this season is concerned with the various aspects of controlling nuclear weapons.

Council Keeps Rams Informed & Sociable

Five hundred individuals, thirty-two organizations, eleven athletic teams, and countless activities require a guiding hand to co-ordinate plans and projects. This is the Student Council.

President, John Treworgy; Vice-President, Nancy Kreiton; secretary, Sara Chandler; and treasurer, Deborah Bridges, make up the cabinet of the Student Council.

The purpose of this organization is to represent the student body as a whole and to present any problems to the school committee. The Council acts as the school's government under the direction of Principal Charles Delano and various teachers. We meet the prevailing problems of the student body and try to solve them.

The money collected from various sources, mainly the dances after basketball games, is used for scholarships to seniors who are not necessarily members of the Student Council. Also, this money is used for purchasing pins for the new members.

Joan Morton, Nancy Kreiton, Margret Taylor and Alan Burnell represented Gorham High School at Calais, Maine, on November 13 and 14 at this year's student council convention. From this annual convention new ideas, laws, and purposes are brought forth which enable a council to strengthen itself in the school.

At the end of each year, with whatever money is left in the treasury or whatever amount is decided upon, a banquet or outing is given for the pleasure of the members. This tradition ends the successful, or what the Council hopes to be successful, year. This also ends a year of hard work with much satisfaction knowing that we have in one way or another made our school better through helping the student body.

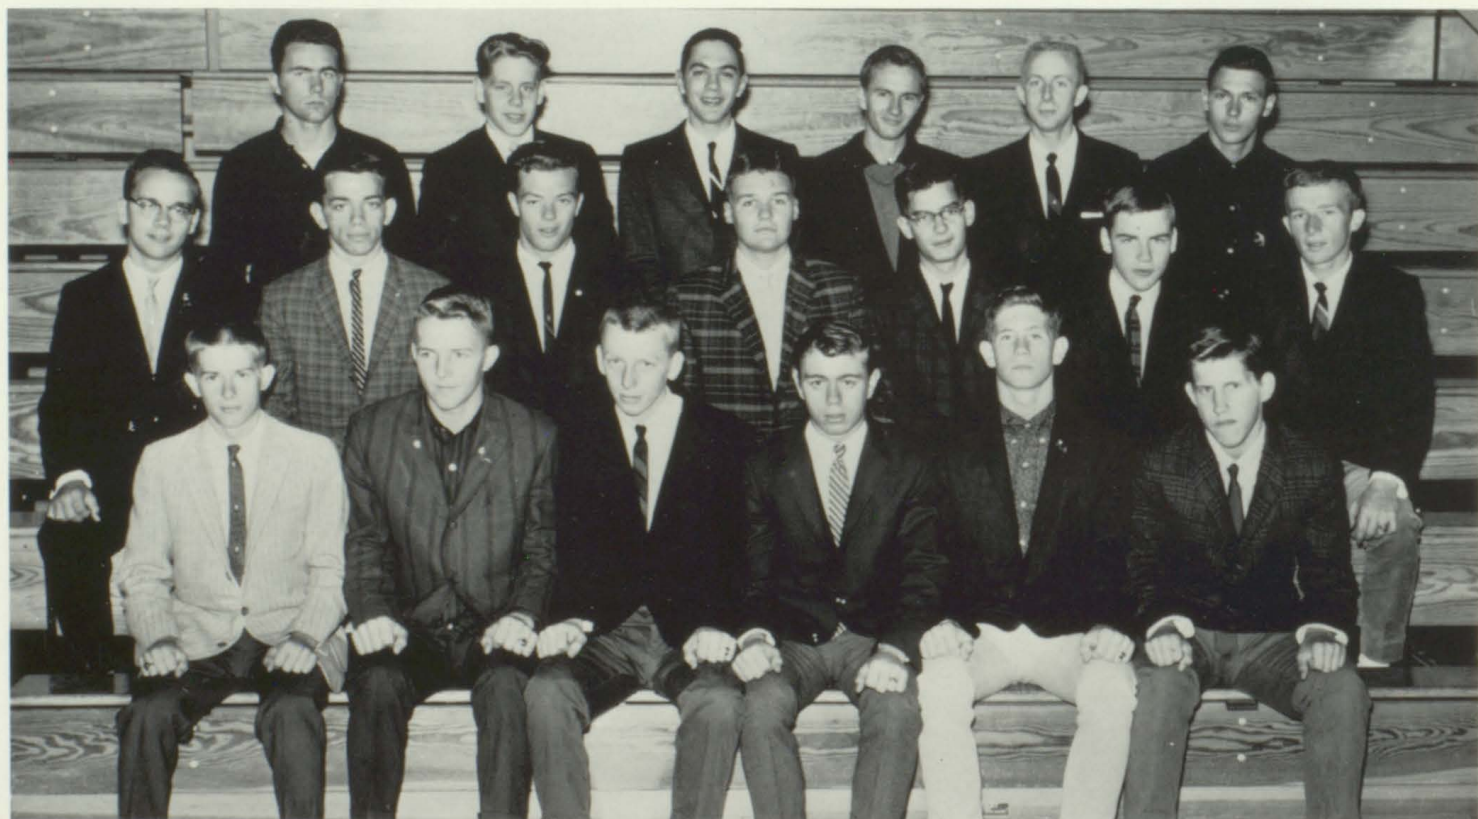

At one of the dances after the basketball games, David Deas tries to sneak by John Treworgy as he is talking to Deborah Bridges.

GHSers Kept Informed by Ramster Staff

The Ramster, Gorham High's newspaper, is published once a quarter with news of current events and student activities. It was started by a small group of G.H.S. students four years ago, with Mrs. Barbara Ellis as advisor, in order to report activities and give recognition to deserving students. The first year's issues were mimeographed, but in the fall of 1962, issues were printed at the Portland Lithograph Company.

In order to pay for these printed issues, subscriptions were sold to students, the school bookstore was founded, and the annual

Miss Page One Ball initiated. Charles Greer, this year's editor, is attempting to purchase a printing press so that the students can publish the entire paper themselves under the guidance of Miss Mary L. Pense.

Much work and rushing goes into each issue of the Ramster, but the members and the staff know that they are learning much about journalism and enjoy it all because once they see the finished copy, then all the hard work seems to count for something.

Ramster staff members could often be found working very late hours on last-minute layouts for the next issue of the school newspaper.

Special Recognition for Superior Achievements

The Gorham High School chapter of the Quill and Scroll Society was founded in 1962 under the guidance of Mrs. Barbara Ellis. Any student who works on either the Ramster or the Schola is eligible for membership in this honorary organization. Its main purpose is the recognition of those students who have made an outstanding contribution to either of these editions.

Each spring the Society holds a banquet in the cafeteria for all staff members. At this banquet the new members of the Society are tapped. These students must be recommended by their respective editors-in-chief and then be chosen by a committee of present members of the Society. Other highlights of this banquet include the recognition of present Society members for their contributions of hard work and valuable time to the school's publications.

This year's officers were elected in January and are: Donna Thomas, president; Aline Belanger, vice-president; and Barbara Brooks, secretary-treasurer. Miss Mary L. Pense is the advisor.

A torch burning the light of character, service, leadership, and scholarship is the symbol of N.H.S. The high school student who aspires to the honor of election to this society should strive to hold this torch high.

Each spring, the faculty selects those students from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes who have responded best to the challenge of the four ideals of N.H.S. Character is the first criterion; for if one will guide others, he must first honestly direct his own life. Service is essential, for the life which does not reach out with a helping hand shrinks to oblivion. Leadership is required that complacency and disunity may not obstruct worthy intentions. Scholarship represents the purpose of education—to break the shackles of ignorance. It is on this last ideal that students qualify, for they must maintain a B-average and make no grade lower than a C on the semester average in any subject.

Being tapped for membership at the annual N.H.S. Assembly is perhaps one of the biggest honors a G.H.S. student can achieve.

This year's officers are president, Nancy Kreiton; vice-president, Alan Burnell; secretary, Sue Carr; and treasurer, Ramona Dunnels.

Dramatics Is More Than Meets the Eye

During the past 15 years several people have been associated with the Dramatics Club of Gorham High School. In 1955, under the direction of William Burgess, they went to the New England Drama Festival. The next two directors were Miss Edith McCauley and Albert Turner.

In 1962 Miss Barbara Waters produced Only An Orphan Girl. After Miss Waters left, Mrs. Mildred Loveitt became the dramatics director, coaching Her Majesty Miss Jones in 1964, and this year's More Than Meets the Eye.

Future plans include producing several one-act plays for student and parent assemblies in late February and possibly participating in the state one-act play contest in March.

Prom Climaxed Grad's Social Calendar

Bill Wood was chosen Junior Class Marshal and Ardyth Martin Head Usher for Graduation exercises.

"Sayonara" was the theme of the Junior-Senior Prom held on May 21 in the gym. Yards of crepe paper and hours of perseverance transformed the gym into a Japanese paradise and a dream in reality for the members of the Prom Committee. Members of the Ramster staff took many pictures of students standing on an arched bridge which spanned the flower-bordered pool. A teahouse decorated with fire-spitting dragons stood in the background surrounded by flowering cherry trees.

The students entered the gym through a bamboo curtain and danced to the music of Syd Lerman and his orchestra. The evening was climaxed by a grand march led by Senior Class president, Jeff Stevens, and Pete Chandler, Student Council President.

"Anyone needs a rest after the Mexican Hat dance," agree Sue Trueworthy and Glen Murray.

Frosh Elect Ways and Means Committee

The Freshman Class Officers elected at the first class meeting which was held in September are Bernard Wood, President; Neil Libby, vice-president; Jane Billingham, secretary; and Gilbert Labrecque, treasurer. Those chosen to represent the class on the Student Council were Paul Young, Jim Rickards, and Bernard Wood. As is traditional with the Freshman class, a Ways and Means Committee was elected.

Jane Billingham was chosen as Chairman. Those serving with her were Melinda Sawyer, Bernard Wood, Brenda Belyea, Neal Libby, Betsey Grondin, Paul Lachance, Susan Alden, and Russell Out-huse.

The class's only money-raising project for the year was a roller skating party. The only other means for building up the class treasury has been the collecting of class dues which were set at $3.00.

Among the many candidates chosen for the different dances were: "Miss Page One," Jane Billingham, Brenda Belyea, Susan Parsons, and Gail Sullivan; and "Miss Key Club," Brenda Belyea and Susan Parsons.

Paul Young and Neil Libby both campaigned for election in the Mayor Campaign.

Rams' Honor Those

After two years in the U.S. Army, Mr. Dugas played for the St. Louis Cardinals for three years.

On behalf of the Senior Class and Schola staff, we dedicate our 1965 yearbook to you, Mr. Dugas, for you have been our friend in time of need, our advisor, and our counselor.

Philip A. Dugas began his career at Gorham High School in the fall of 1958. Since then he has helped about 500 students on to college and straightened out about 600 bewildered Freshmen on first days of school.

Upon being graduated from Edward Little High School in 1947, he entered the Army. After serving his two year term, he engaged in a baseball career. He played for the St. Louis Cardinal organization for three years. In 1957 he was graduated from the University of Maine where a year later, he received his Master's Degree. He went on in further study at the University of Missouri.

Don't give me any of your back talk! Mr. Dugas has been a loyal Senior class advisor right down to the 4 A.M. Hunters' Breakfasts.

Mr. Dugas now resides with his wife, Helen, and six children at 8 Sylvan Road, Gorham. He is active in his church and in the Lions Club, and is a Cub Scout Master. During the summer months, Mr. Dugas has been a baseball coach for the Babe Ruth team and the American Legion team.

Who Guide Them

We, the students of Gorham High School, should like to express our appreciation to Miss Rutherford Hanson for her great devotion to the betterment of our education and character.

Miss Hanson, as head of the English Department, has introduced many new teaching methods. Two of these improvements are the quarter-point credit system. She is presently trying to add a speed reading course to the curriculum.

Over a period of years, Miss Hanson has served as class advisor four classes. Presently, she is advisor to the National Honor Society. In past years, she has also been advisor to the Future Teachers of America.

Among her many honors, Miss Hanson has received the Valley Forge Foundation medal for her outstanding teaching. Gorham High School is extremely proud to have this opportunity to pay tribute to such an esteemed member of its faculty.

The Guidance Department of Gorham High School plays an important part in the lives of the students and is instrumental in helping GHSers adapt to high school life and also in preparing them for worthwhile and well-fulfilled futures. In order to better meet the needs of the growing student body, another guidance counselor, Mrs. Angeline Colpitts, has been added to the faculty this year. Furthermore, the guidance office has been moved into what was formerly the clinic in order to provide another counseling booth and more room in which to keep records and catalogues.

The four main functions which the department must provide are the keeping of individual inventory; the provision of information service, and counseling service; and research and evaluation.

The Individual Inventory consists of data gathered on each student. This is done by means of observation, standardized tests pupil needs, and case conferences.

The Information Service provides students with information regarding school regulations, courses, and curricula; occupations, colleges, and scholarships.

As a Counseling Service, the department attempts to aid each student in the achievement of personal adequacy and effectiveness through self-knowledge, through awareness of surroundings, through mastering of self-environment, and through orientation upon social and spiritual values.

Its final function is the interpretation of data bearing upon guidance operation and the divising of a procedure for appraising the outcome of services upon the school.

Guiding Light of G.H.S.

Students constantly seek the advice of Mr. Dugas and Mrs. Colpitts concerning future education and present problems.

Mr. Holden, chairman of the Math Dept., was one of the first to introduce audio-visual equipment and transparencies as a teaching aid.

Math Courses Stimulate Analytical Thinking

During the 1964-1965 school year the Mathematics Department is continuing its efforts in the development of modern concepts. Its stress on these ideas is for the purpose of strengthening the student's ability to see relationships, and to reason deductively.

It should be noted that we do not leave behind any basic skills, but that we endeavor to enrich them with the best that modern mathematics has to offer. It is the belief of the Department that neglect of these skills in the development of the backbone of the mathematical structure could be disastrous.

In order to preserve continuity in the courses, we are using a full series of texts (grades 9-12) published by the same company. This prevents gaps in the work or overlapping of material.

In the mathematics courses for seniors and juniors, a more extensive use of the overhead projector is made. Prepared transparencies give opportunity for wide coverage of the work at hand. Also, a variety of mathematical models are used to good advantage.

As usual the national competitive examination, sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America and the Society of Actuaries, was taken by approximately eighty students.

Through the cooperative efforts of our capable librarian, the Department has expanded its mathematical library to a marked degree, thus enabling the student to develop his or her interests.

Communication Is a Never Ending Process

This year a flexible new program for grades 9-12 has been added to the English department of Gorham High School. In an endeavor to meet individual achievements and to appeal to individual interests, the program has been planned such that the students may elect at least one preferred course of study during the year.

Credits for a year of English have been broken into four one-quarter points, providing each student with an opportunity to elect an extra course of his choice for only part of a year. Through the scheduling of classes it is possible for students to move easily from one level of achievement to another, as his habits of study and achievement mark his progress.

The Gorham High School Library provides a core for the instructional program. Its purpose is to serve each individual associated with the school by providing materials to support and enrich the curriculum, to encourage self-development, to give background information for intelligent thinking, and to enhance leisure time. To help accomplish this, the library has approximately 4600 books and subscribes to 40 magazines and four newspapers. But even this is not enough to adequately serve our needs.

Change is the keynote to our time, and the next few years will, hopefully, see a change from the traditional concept of a library as a roomful of books and bookshelves. Films, filmstrips, maps, transparencies, slides, pictures, electronic tapes, recordings, and learning programs will be added. This change will take time, money, and more space. However, programmed texts in a few subjects will be available next year for those who want to take advantage of self-instruction texts. This will be the first of many new aspects of library service offered at Gorham High School.

History Prepares Students for the Future

Mr. Dean Evans

Mr. Elliott Tracy
Math—History

During the past school year the Social Studies Department has attempted to prepare the individual student to deal intelligently with the important issues of our society. In other words, we are striving to develop the correct socio-civic behavior needed in a democratic society.

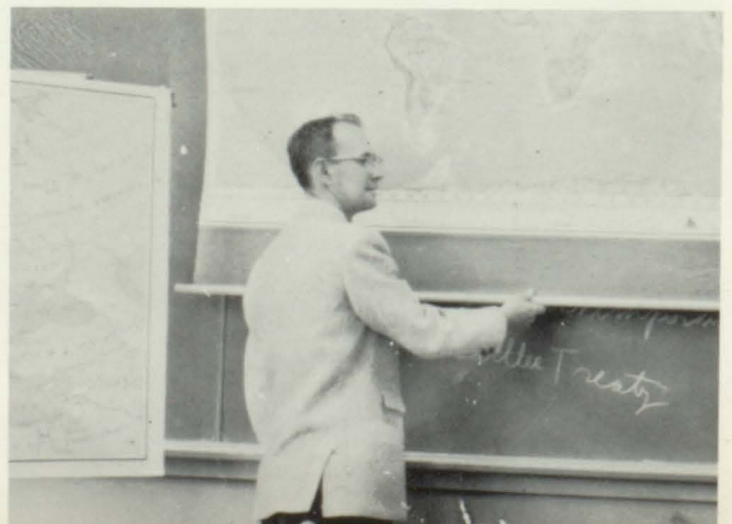

We have also attempted to develop such skills in students as analyzing and evaluating data, making judgments, forming generalizations, expressing ideas in writing or orally and basically understanding our economic system as well as others.

We have employed audio-visual aids, newspapers for current events, the fine collection of social studies books in the library, and qualified visiting speakers.

The department courses of study include United States History, Economic Geography, Business Economics, Civil Government, Ancient History, World History, and Modern History.

Foreign Language . . . Emphasizes Culture

The Language Department of Gorham High School offers three years of French and two years of Latin to fill the needs of the college-preparatory student. In attempting to measure up to the demands of the modern program, the department now places more stress on oral work than in previous years. However, a solid grounding in grammar and usage is still considered to be the basis of proficiency.

New this year is Mr. Fournier, who formerly taught in New Amsterdam, New York. In French, he has introduced the Audio-Lingual Method, the purpose of which is to teach the student to think clearly and express himself in the language. Each week students listen to tapes of dialogues and exercises in the textbooks. Describing scenes on posters enables the student to perfect his conversation.

In the advanced French classes, extensive reading and writing have been emphasized with special attention given to the literature, history, and culture of France.

Latin has been found to be valuable in increasing the student's English vocabulary and providing a sound background for the study of other languages. Mrs. Downing has found that the new texts being used this year emphasize reading earlier and make the course more interesting and worthwhile. These books are more like those being used in modern-language courses. For the first time in several years, Latin III will be offered in 1965.

Physics

Mr. Ernest Scribner
Biology

Mr. Carl Estes
Chemistry—Science

Mr. John Swierzynski
Chemistry—Math

The Physics course as well as chemistry is arranged with classes five days a week plus two additional lab periods.

In order to provide better continuity in the science course, exchange meetings were held between the high school and the junior high in an attempt to acquaint each with the program the other was endeavoring to carry on. In this way, it was hoped that repetition could be eliminated and the science program thus strengthened.

Freshman students generally take the Earth Science course which consists of the study of astronomy, geology, meteorology, and oceanography.

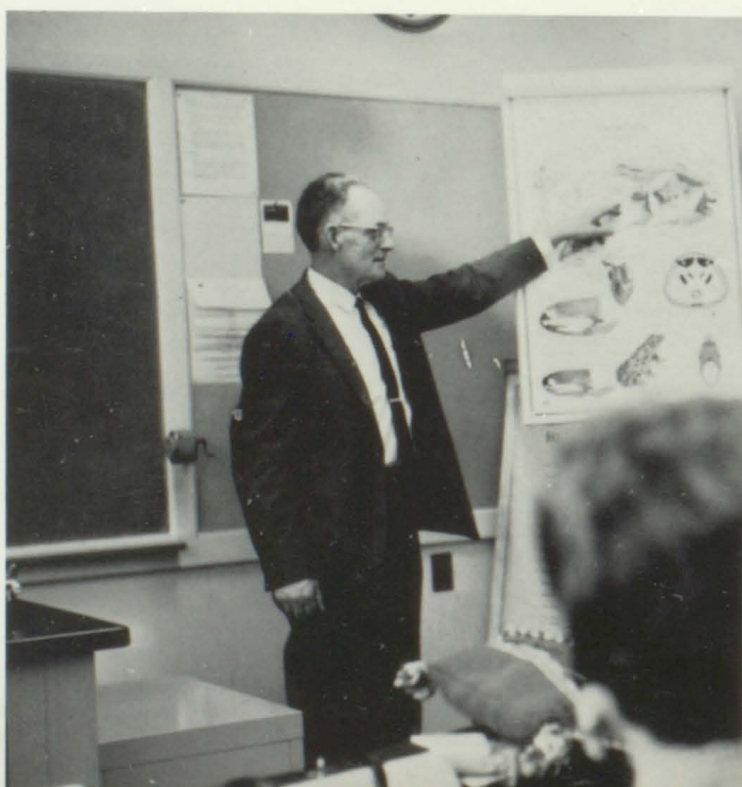

Biology is offered primarily to sophomores. With more prepared slides being available greater use can be made of laboratory exercises in the use of the microscope. Additional equipment has facilitated dissecting work in the laboratory.

Science Program Challenged Active Minds

Enrollment in chemistry has reached a new high this year with approximately 125 students in six different classes. With all five sections of College Chemistry using the same text and laboratory manual, a certain measure of flexibility in scheduling has been achieved. In an effort to enhance student interest in the General Chemistry course, one class period per week is now being devoted to laboratory work.

Following the modern approach, the physics course covers less topical material than is sometimes presented in other courses. This is done in favor of a more penetrating analysis of areas which contribute most heavily to an understanding of an atomic picture of the universe. Emphasis is placed on the laboratory work to explain the theory found in the text.

Mr. Scribner gives preparatory instruction as to the dissection of a frog. Students also dissect worms, crayfish, starfish, clams, and locusts.

Physical Fitness Is Stressed by Competition

Gorham High's boy's physical education program is planned to help all boys by a variety of feats throughout the school year.

The school is well-supplied with athletic equipment. Several of the newer pieces of equipment are the rings and the peg board.

In the fall, the boys participate in soccer and football. These games are followed by feats of skill on the trampoline and peg board.

The third quarter is started with volleyball. After vacation, the boys have sessions in calisthenics, followed by performances on the horse, the rings, and various other apparatus. Finally in the spring, the boys compete with each other in softball.

Although the 250 boys participate in all activities earnestly, the most effort is put into stampeding the girls on the way to the showers.

Tumbling was very popular with the girls. Here, the second period class discusses a new formation.

The girl's physical education classes this year have seen lots of fun and competition. In the physical fitness tests given each year, many students have excelled. Sophomores Alyson Martin and Barbara Howard both reached 7'8" in the standing broad jump; Carol Wicks, also a sophomore, topped with 130 sit-ups. Alyson Martin made 21 holes in the peg board used by the boys physical education classes. In pushups, Deborah Hale, a sophomore, and senior Bonnie Bruton, excelled with 60 and 62 pushups respectively.

The trampoline again is popular, as are the horse and the earlier soccer, hockey, basketball, and volleyball programs.

Wayne Wagner shouts his approval of the trampoline, a favorite with both boy's and girl's P.E. classes.

Business Education Teaches Vocational Skills

Mr. John Hoskin

Mrs. Olive Skillings

Mrs. Marilyn Leighton

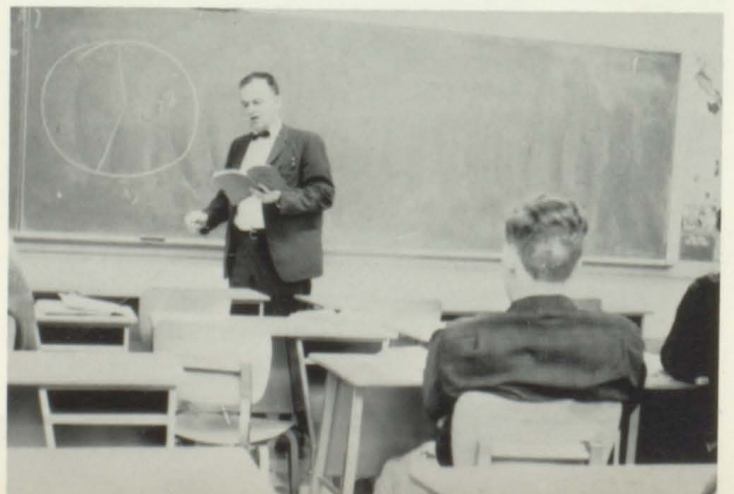

The Business Education Course was changed this year so that there would be two sufficient areas for the business student—secretarial and business preparatory. The secretarial course has as its requirements, in addition to basic business subjects, two years of shorthand, of typing, and also of secretarial training. The business preparatory course has as its requirements two years of bookkeeping, business law, business economics, and clerical office practice. It is found that more emphasis on proficiency will assist the business education student in competing for jobs in industries.

In forthcoming years even more emphasis will be placed on the school subjects so that a business education graduate will be able to compete effectively for the better office position which will become available to the high school graduate.

John Hoskins

The Business Education Course is divided into the two areas of secretarial and business preparatory training.

Home Economics . . . Teaches Practical Skills

Gorham High School offers a three year sequence in home-making and a "senior special".

All areas of homemaking are integrated so that experiences in one area lead to related experiences in another area, making a gradual transition from unit to unit and from year to year.

Last year the F.H.A. girls had the prize winning booth at the A.F.S. fair.

Mrs. Ruth Putney

Health, safety, and management are incorporated in each of the various areas of homemaking. These include:

- a) Personal and Family Relationships.
- b) Child Care and Guidance.
- c) Home Management and Consumer Buying.
- d) Home Improvement and Housing.
- e) Foods and Nutrition.
- f) Clothing, Grooming, and Textiles.
- g) Family Health and Safety.

The program provides both lab and non-lab experiences in class, while home experiences outside of class provide real life situations leading to the further development of skills and knowledge in home making activities.

This year Mrs. Putney was aided in teaching the Home Ec. Course by student teachers from Farmington State Teacher's College.

Revised Curriculum for Industrial Arts

Mr. James Pearson

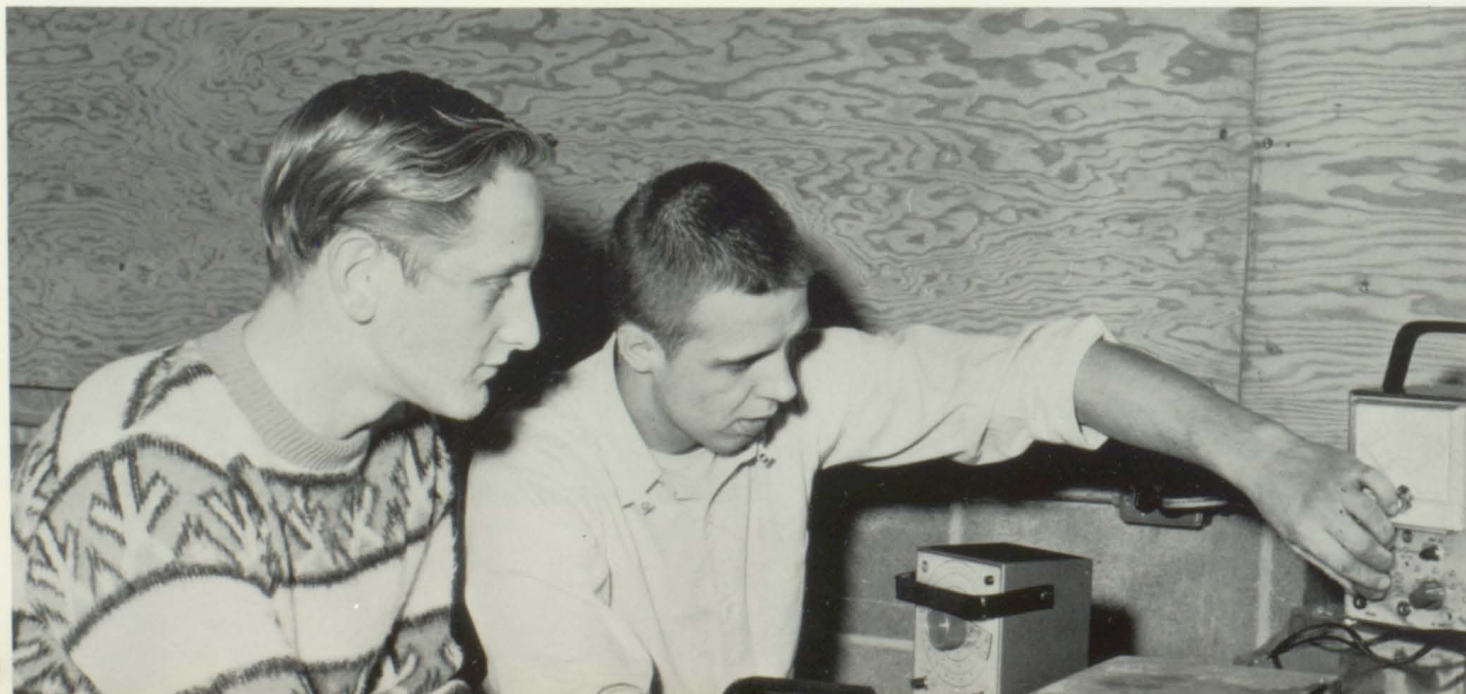

Mr. Robert Stevens

The Industrial Education Program has undergone several changes in preparation for the school year 1964-65. The transfer of Mr. Stevens into the field of industrial arts has greatly improved the possibilities of expanding the original curriculum, and at the same time has given the opportunity for a larger enrollment. The present enrollment in the program is double that of the combined programs of last year.

While the original program has been reorganized, two new programs have been added to include a more desirable curriculum, with opportunity for three different emphasis.

The first, a broad Industrial Arts Education with pre-vocational emphasis, is a program designed to interpret industry, while stressing the solution of problems through experiences with tools, materials, and processes.

The second, with a pre-engineering emphasis, is a program including industrial design, solution of industrial problems through graphic representation, and an introduction to manufacturing industries. It is hoped that this phase of the curriculum will be eventually expanded to include any college student who is interested in specialization in one of the major fields of engineering.

The third, with a specialized industrial arts emphasis, is a program based on the study of jobs or occupations in industry and the community. The particular emphasis will be pre-occupational preparation and practical work experiences with tools, materials, and processes relating to common occupations.

It is felt that the outcomes of all new courses have been realized to a considerable degree.

A Year of Change Long to be Remembered

During the past year, we have experienced many changes at Gorham. There have been the usual changes in students plus some in courses and schedules. Two entirely new courses have been added this year: Psychology and Technical Drawing. These additions exemplify the increasing opportunities at G.H.S. for development of diverse and high-level areas of study. The school has also added the elective English quarter system, in which a student can select the course he desires from a list of choices ranging from the short story to Shakespeare. Schedule changes include the lengthening of the lunch periods to allow full-length classes to be held during one lunch period.

This year has also marked some great advances in music at Gorham. Inspired by Beethoven, the Rolling Stones, and the Hannibal's Crossing Symphonic Rhythm Band (in order of increasing importance), a few groups of students have banded together to perform as either popular or folk groups. The first months of the school year saw the appearance of a group appropriately named The Vikings. This group gained such a wide-sweeping reputation after a very few performances, that its members felt it only safe to change the name to The MarAuders, another excellent choice. In mid-December, another group appeared, vocalists this time. Called "Chug and the Pop Tops", the group specialized in songs of a more traditional nature.

Loyal supporters inspired the Rams to become the Triple-C champions.

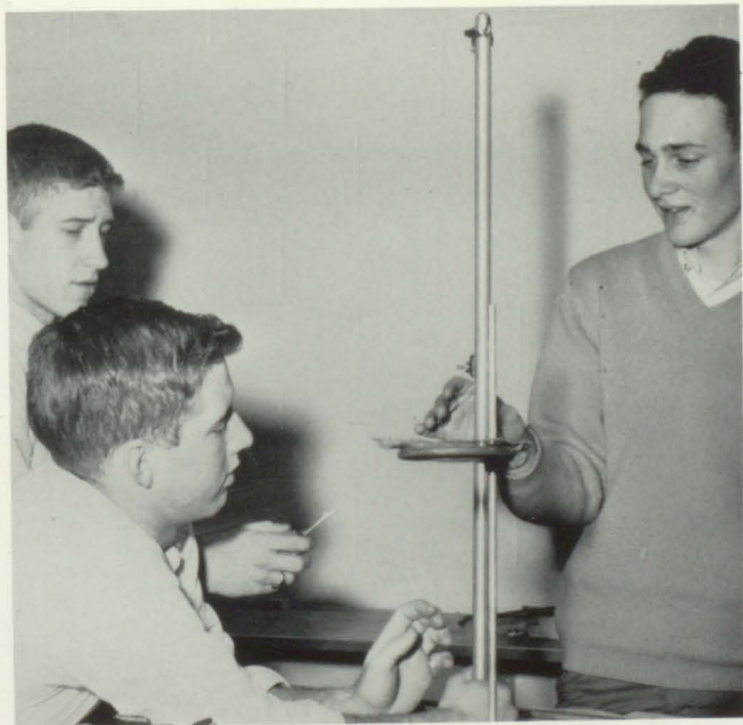

The disagreement involving the hot lunch program was settled with the aid of the Student Council.

Also, at this time, a folk group named "The Frazzles" appeared. A high point in musical expression was reached as hootenany audiences, moved by the melodious strains of "Puff the Magic Dragon", were often forced to leave the room during a performance.

This year saw the return of the traditional cafeteria study hall, which sometimes amounted to little more than eighty students in one room bound together by a common thought: "Is the teacher looking this way?"

A novelty at G.H.S. this year was the sale of NABS. Selling for a nickel per package, these delicacies were the center of attraction during recess. So powerful was the attraction of the NABS that recess sales crowded the ticket booth, luring students from as far away as the stairway near Room 10, a popular area. Another service provided for students, the Paperback Bookstore, for the third straight year gave our reading generation a convenient way of purchasing a wide range of recent popular editions as well as traditional literary classics.

This has truly been a full social season, complete with live dances and entertainment and topped off by the Junior-Senior Prom. Throughout the greater part of the basketball season, students were fortunate to have post-game dances sponsored by the Student Council.

This has been a year of change, improvement, and enjoyment for all those connected with Gorham High School—a year that we will long remember.

Gorham High has meant many things to many people. Those of us who have participated in all aspects of school life—study, service, spirit, and fellowship—have had four wonderful years filled with fun, friends, rewarding experiences, and many, many memories. As we walk down these halls for the last time, we are filled with sadness at the knowledge that we are leaving behind a part of ourselves, but we are also filled with anticipation for a whole new phase of our lives.

The road of life
Now lies before you.
The road of gilded dreams
And heartfelt hopes.
You, the traveler, have made your choice.
This Golden Road is yours
To follow with faith and assurance.
You must reach for
The silver-lined clouds,
And climb over hills to your goal.
You must keep your head
When you face the crossroads,
And reason at the forks in your path.
No matter how rough
Your Golden Road gets,
However narrow it might be;
You must push on
Past the rocks,
Over the hurdles,
Across the bridges,
And follow your Golden Road with courage
Until you reach your destination.
