Life

on Stage

Talent Show

(Right) — Becky Brown does the Locomotion!
 (Far Right) — Mr. Willette gapes in astonishment
 as Miss Appelbaum's body disappears. (Below)
 — Mr. Peterson and Tom Gagne — EXTREMEly good. (Below Right) — Mr. Roy asks "You call that talent??"

Scott Wonders "What song are you playing?"

The Cowflops ask "Whassup?"

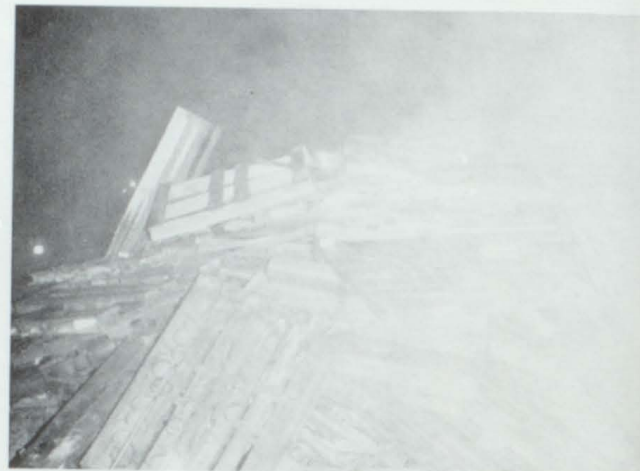

(Left) — Chris V. and Joel M. — showing us their lack of talent. (What are they doing up there, anyway?) (Below) — Mr. M. is hypnotized by Derek's Satanic stare. (Below Left) — Pete and Jeff — Buttheads. (Below Right) — Darren Lorain — The talent shows only commercial interruption.

Homecoming

Fashion Show

Nice legs.

Pretty Woman.

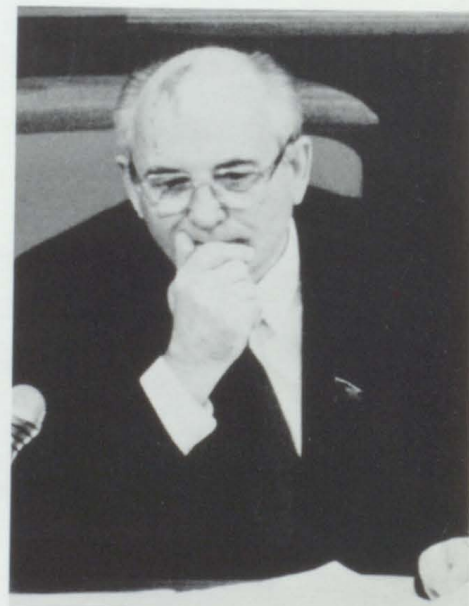

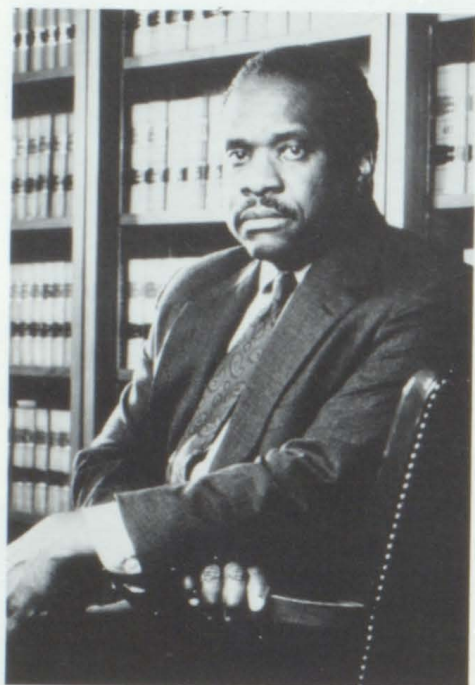

Ride 'em cowboy!

"World Tour"

1991 and 1992 were years of immense change, conflict, and awareness. Environmentalists led rallies and demonstrations to save the burned rain forests. Sexual Harassment became an issue on everyone's minds as the Clarence Thomas — Anita Hill conflict evolved. In America's schools, first lady Barbara Bush continued her quest for academic excellence. Overseas, the world waited breathlessly for the results of the hardliner coup in the Soviet Union to become apparent. Also, we watched the repercussions of the Gulf War in post-war Kuwait City and the fire ravaged oil fields. Efforts for peace in the Middle East following the war were led by Secretary of State James Baker. And that — as they say — is that.

On Tour With...

Paul Simon

The Grateful Dead

(Upper Left) — Paula Abdul. (Upper Right) — Guns N' Roses. (Middle Left) — Bonnie Raitt. (Middle Right) — Vanilla Ice — NOT!! (Bottom) — Wilson Phillips

DEDICATION

Roger Lord

What can be said about Roger Lord? He has been there for all of us at one time or another and he shows great concern for all of his students. As an advisor for the class of 1992, he keeps up with the lives and activities of all of us. How many Seniors hasn't he asked about plans after graduation? Mr. Lord has been actively involved with our class since kindergarten when we would come and build things like bird houses, candlestick holders, and so on. We've known and respected him for years. Mr. Lord, this dedication is just one small way that we can thank you for everything. To Mr. Lord we have just one thing to say: Cheez-Wiz!

The Class Of '92

Cory Reed Adams

"There stands a man bound in chains. He has made many mistakes with no regrets. He has done things on a whim on a prayer, hoping for the best outcome. Knowing that a change not taken holds more regrets than one that has. He has paid his dues, for what? He does not ask. He just accepts it and moves on. What sense does it make to question something that was long ago decided? He lives in reality. He avoids the plateau for the fall, and he will fail, will far overpower the glory of being above everyone, in mind not body. Never impartial he will choose a side and stand firm there, holding only his beliefs. Once rubbed the wrong way he is unforgiving, uncaring, and selfish. It is his way of remaining secure, confident, or was he? It's now too late. We can only regret formulating opinions and believing that they are true when who really knows the truth? Asking and not caring, now the man bound in chains is gone forever."

Valerie Ahlquist

Math Team competitions this year were spent defending against three tough competitors, Gray, Mt. Ararat, and Brunswick. Under the direction of Mr. Russell, the team rose to the challenge of becoming a member of the large school division. This year's competition included a controversial calculator meet, a snow-delayed meet, and of course the states.

And so the "bubble" of seniors on the team are finished, and we leave convinced that next year's Math Team will "carry the torch" with great success.

The Peer Helpers group has become an active club in the school and in the community with the support of its new advisor, Mrs. Hinds. Throughout the year, the club has sponsored two dances for Shaw Jr. High School and members have also aided Shaw by tutoring. Our most successful project was the organizing of a Freshman Awareness Day, where the issues of drugs, alcohol, and AIDS were addressed by speakers from the community and skits performed by peer helpers. The 1991-1992 school year was an extremely successful one for the peer helper Group and returning members are anxious to continue their involvement in the fall.

FRENCH CLUB

This year's French Club is a small group. It consists of six members, which is actually Mr. Fournier's period four French III and IV class. Because we are such a small group, we conduct our meetings during class. This year, we are concentrating on French culture and cuisine. Our class has cooked many French culinary delights and in the spring, we will go out to dinner at a French restaurant where we will only speak French. We have also read and translated some French classics, such as Les Miserables by Victor Hugo. This past fall we studied French impressionists such as Van Gogh, Monet, and Renior, and took a trip to the Portland Museum of Art to view their paintings.

Mr. Fournier, Nannette Smith, Susan Pattershall, Lisa Forgione, Reichert, Beth Wallace.

Library aides are students that take some time out during the day to help in the library, usually this is during a study hall. Their basic function is to make Mrs. Kneeland's and Mrs. Stickney's job easier. They fill in the little things that the staff doesn't always have time for. Some things that library aides do are put books and magazines away, and help check out and turn in books. They play a valuable role in the library. They make the staff's job much easier.

PHOTOGRAPHY

In this school year, our club has seen some positive changes. It took us awhile to get off our feet and blow the dust off our cameras, but we eventually took a step forward. We worked on techniques in the darkroom and different themes. In the spring, new interests bloomed and our club became more active. A few accomplishments that we made were with a contest that we ran for the High School, a group slide show and others.

We took trips to different places and based them around particular themes. Due to winter's unfortunate weather, it took us awhile until we set off on our first trip, but we finally made it! All in all though, each of the Photography Club members are in their own war, becoming great photographers of tomorrow!

● Gorham students seek respect for system work

By GEORGE
Staff Writer

GORHAM — Gorham High School held a noon session to discuss the possible protest by teachers.

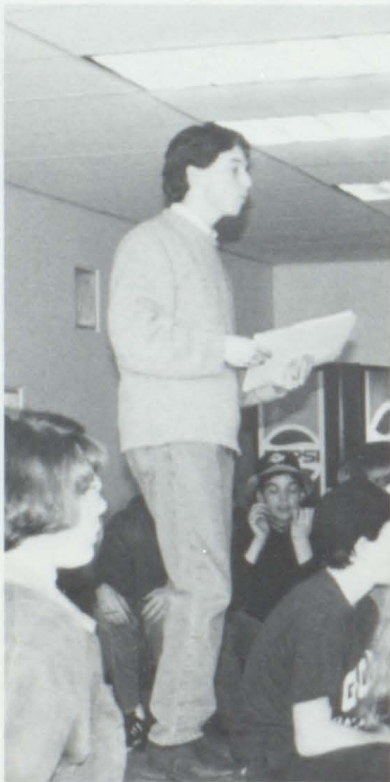

Leslie Apple, a full-time and part-time teacher and assistants who will not be rehired next year unless they are brought into the school system.

Jeff Lord, a teacher, said word that he would not be rehired leaked by teachers Thursday night. In a matter of hours, he organized the period protest.

School administrators were disappointed not to seek permission for the event. But they prevent it.

Superintendent Timothy W. McCormack went to the school, took questions and explained why the cuts may be necessary and how the list of prospective cuts was drawn.

"The fact is we have already cut everything we possible can out of the budget," McCormack said. "There is nothing left except staff."

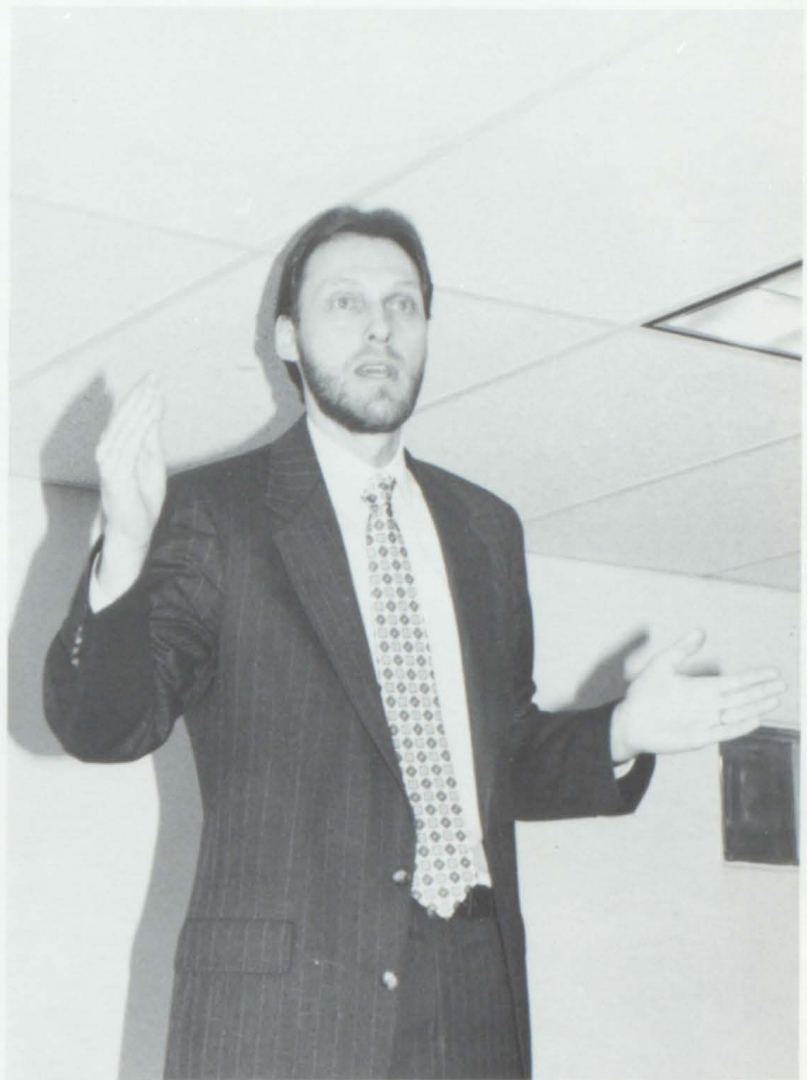

The students told McCormack they have no respect for a system in which seniority is the primary factor when cutbacks must be made. "Why don't the students have a say?" asked one - to loud applause.

"What it comes down to is that we have a large building, a large student body but no money to pay teachers," said Jeff Morrow, a senior and one of the state's top high school math students.

"It's not fair to cut the teachers," said Joe Tarrence. "They're the ones who do the educating."

Student leaders urged their schoolmates and residents to attend a meeting of the School Committee Wednesday. The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. at Shaw School.

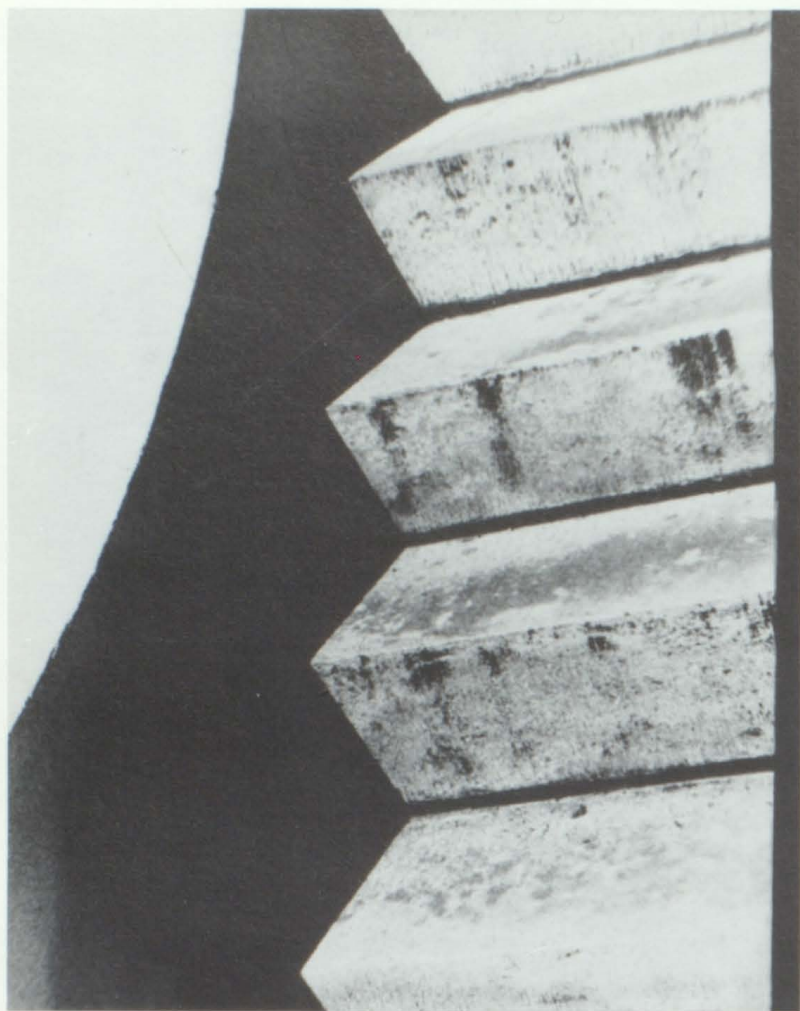

Applebaum was not at school Friday and could not be reached.

Gorham High students staged a protest demonstration upon hearing of the possible elimination of Ms. Appelbaum due to 92-93 school budget cutbacks. The sixth period sit-in was organized by Chris Lawrence and Lincoln Tarentino, who also spoke on behalf of the student body. The demonstration was attended by over 2/3 of the student body, and addressed by Superintendent of Schools, Timothy McCormack. Mr. McCormack provided information and insight into the current budget crisis that exists on both the state and local levels. Students were given the opportunity to express their opinions and ask questions concerning the process used to arrive at the proposed cuts.

The demonstration was attended by the local press which gave the students fair although inaccurate coverage. At the time of this writing (3/11/92), the issue has not been resolved and students are becoming actively involved in the decision making process. A School Committee meeting is scheduled to review the Superintendent's proposed cuts. Students are prepared to speak out on the behalf of the teachers and hopefully have an influence on future events.

Wrestling

Plagued by small numbers, the wrestling team (6-10-1) started each meet faced with a handicap of at least 24 points. However, neglecting the deficit, the team boasted a head to head record of 13-4, the best record in the history of the Gorham wrestling.

Eighth year head coach Mike Marsh was not surprised, describing the team as one of his tightest knit, hardest working teams, with some of the best athletes he has ever seen.

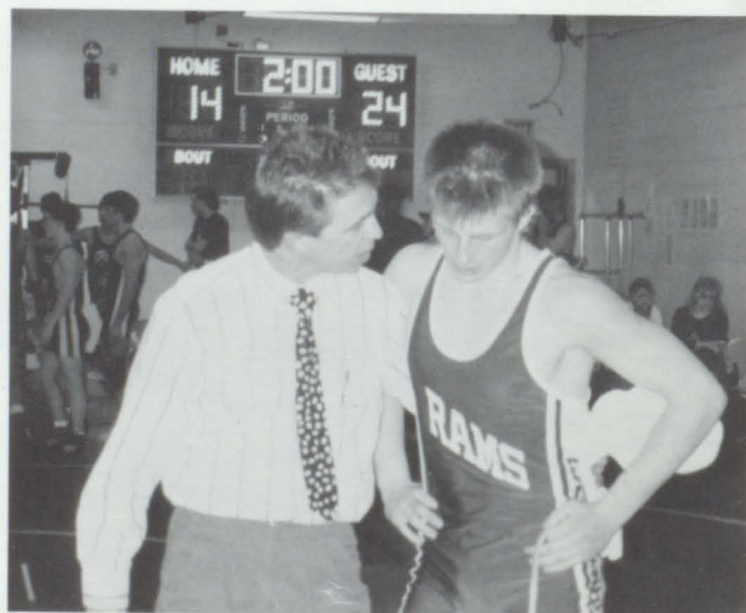

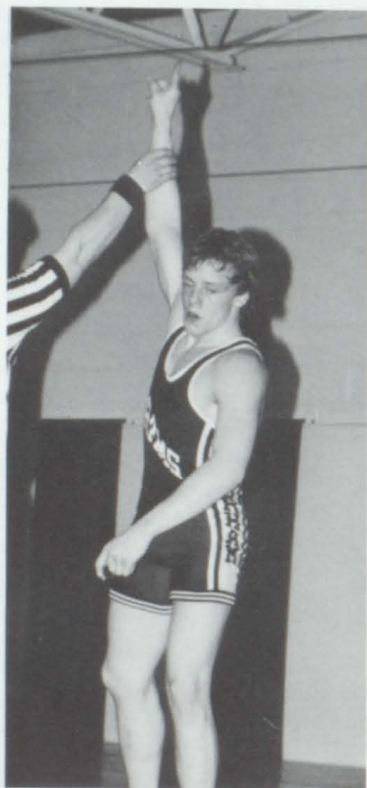

The team sent three wrestlers to the finals of the Western Maine Class B Regionals. Senior co-captain Randy Robinson (13-3-0) placed second in the 145 pound class, along with senior co-captain Kevin Cox (13-3-0), who lost in sudden death overtime at 130 pounds. But one wrestler, Ben Farrington (10-0-0), did win the finals, with 3 consecutive pins in the tournament at the 189 lb. class.

Gorham sent 3 other wrestlers to the State Championships, Jamie Lewery, 160 pounds, Jeremy Reynolds, 125 pounds, and Andy Phillips who upset the seding at the Regional Tournament by winning 2 sudden death overtime matches to place fourth and qualify for the states. Mike Stevenson, 135 pounds, also qualified as an alternate.

The team would like to send special thanks to Mrs. Phillips and also to Marc Manning for his 6 years of commitment to the program.

Messages

Amanda — Your spirit, optimism, and sensitivity have gifted us with loving memories. We're proud of who you are, what you stand for, and all you've accomplished. Congratulations! Mom and Dad

My never-ending love and support are with you as you strive for your goals. I'm PROUD of you, Jeni. Love, Mom

Derek — Thanks for the challenge, your spirit and your energy. Best wishes, with Love, Mum & Dad

Over the years we have shared both laughter and tears. We have watched her grow into a beautiful caring young woman. We love you Val!

LOOK OUT WORLD HERE I COME

Tanya, we are proud of you and wish you happiness forever, you're wonderful!!! Love, Mom, Dad, Erik, Tina, Danny and David

Jes,
He made the summer breeze so mild,
The moon and stars above.
But when He made a little girl
Then God created love.
— Mom & Dad

Matt T. — You make each day a special day by just your being you. Congratulations, Mom & Dad

Way to go Becky! We're proud of you, but then we always are. Mom and Dad

Shane, we are extremely proud of you and always will be! Love Mom, Dad and Karah

Ali — Thanks for the memories and your smile. Keep that spirit! We love you. Mom, Dad, Jeff & Dave - MTTCT

We gave you roots to grow and wings to fly. You have roots now fly, Lisa K, fly. Love, Mom & Dad

Jeff, you are a Son to be truly proud of. May you have as much happiness in life as you have given us. We love you. Mom and Roger Weston, congratulations for a job well done! We are very proud of you and say, "Break a leg!" Love, M. D. and R.

Nate — You're a wonderful son! We are very proud of you! Good luck in the future! Love you! Mom, Dad & Dan.

Jennifer — we love you and are always proud of you. Congratulations, you did a super job this year — Love Mom & Dad.

Editors' Note (From the Both of Us)

The Yearbook was a lot of hard work and long hours, but it did have its own rewards. Both of us got to know some interesting people — including each other. We would like to thank some people who helped make the experience all that more enjoyable: Sara Freil for all those ads, Matt Herrik for the cover, Martha Harris for the great photos, Dave the Janitor who has walked in on some “interesting” conversations, cheeze-wiz, our advisors Mr. and Mrs. Hinds, Liz, Patti, Jessica, Tim, Tom, Matias, Aaron, Tanya, and Jen — the people who were always here, and our folks for putting up with our odd schedules!

SPRING TOUR 1992

Guys & Dolls

The Prom Fashion Show

The Prom committee held a fashion show this year to raise money for the Prom. Don't they look nice!

Awards Night

ONE ENCHANTED EVENING

King and Queen: Chris Pedersen and Leslie Colburn

Duke and Duchess: Merritt Bennett and Melissa Nicley

Daleleen Leighton in a tight situation.

The Editors take a well-deserved break at the prom.

Tim McLain — He's so cute!

Overwhelming beauty!
