'96 Teacher Dedication

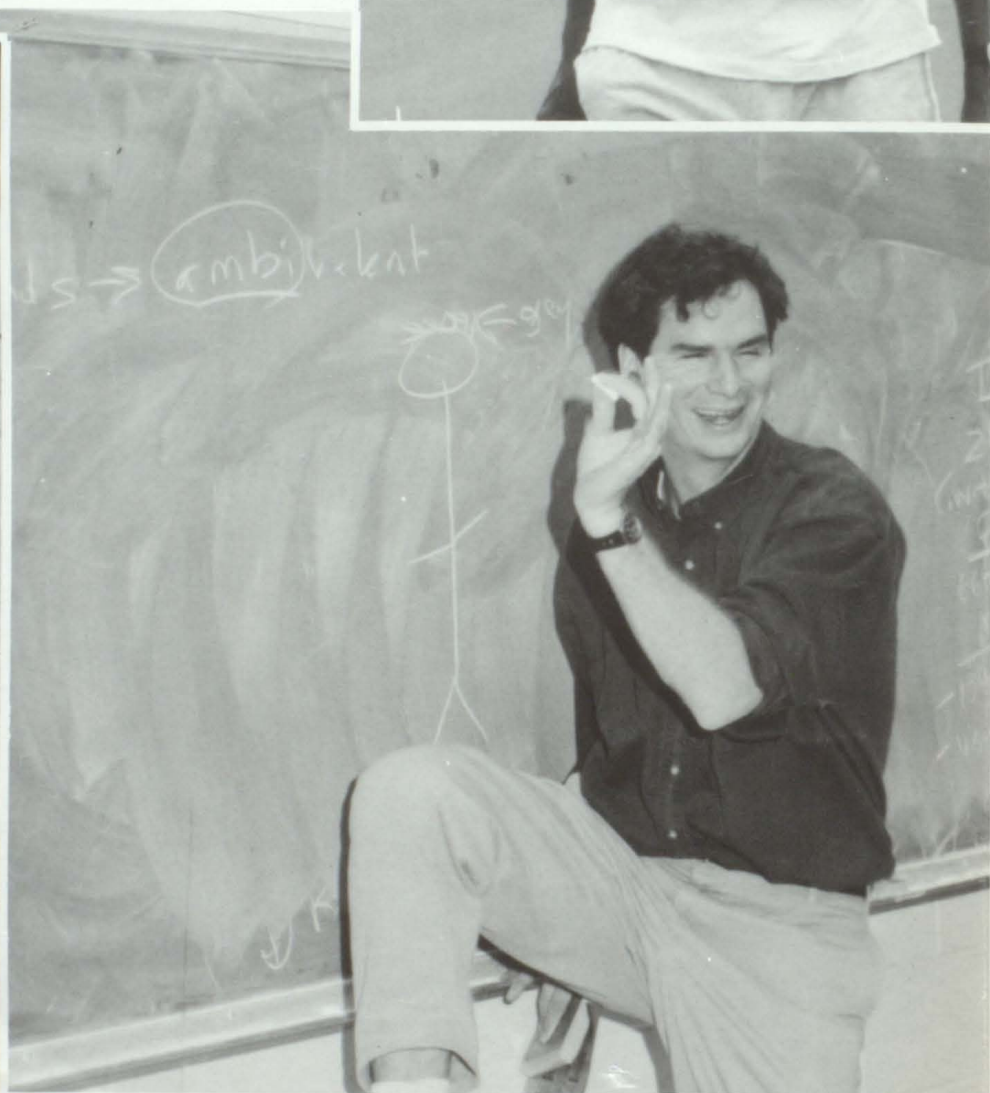

We at the yearbook decided early on that the candidates for this year's dedication were to be evaluated and voted for on a slightly different set of criteria. As opposed to the traditional areas of whether or not the individual really deserves the dedication, we made known the fact that the 1996 yearbook dedication was to go to the individual most frequently seen in tennis shoes, with the biggest hair, coolest car, and just in general, the biggest dork.

Mr. Derek Pierce: Gorham's sneakered sensei; afro-ed academician; jalopy-driving genius won.

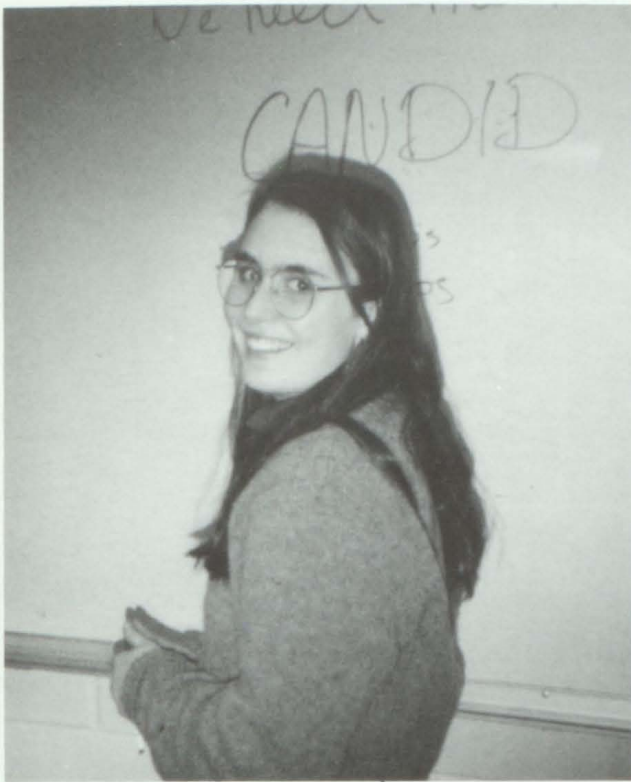

Actually, we have a little confession to make. We threw, as it is commonly referred to in the business, a little yearbook humor at you, which, when referred to by those not in the business is simply called 'not funny'. But anyway, we did it, and now we're coming clean.

We did not, despite this co-editor's pleas, make the above criteria known to the public, so Mr. Pierce, presumably, won for other reasons. Now this is sheer speculation on the author's part, but the reasons Derek Pierce was voted for this year's dedication probably have something to do with his remarkable singing and dancing abilities, his acting and directorial skills, his coaching of the boys' tennis team to second place in Western B last year, and the fact that he is one of the best teachers in the state and beyond. The hair and the mobile had to have been a factor in there too.

So, now the author, me, I, would like to thank, on behalf of the yearbook, school, and any other parties involved Mr. Derek Pierce for redefining the common English class experience, bringing laughter to the classrooms, tennis courts, and stages of Gorham High School, and making the afore mentioned high school a better place to be.

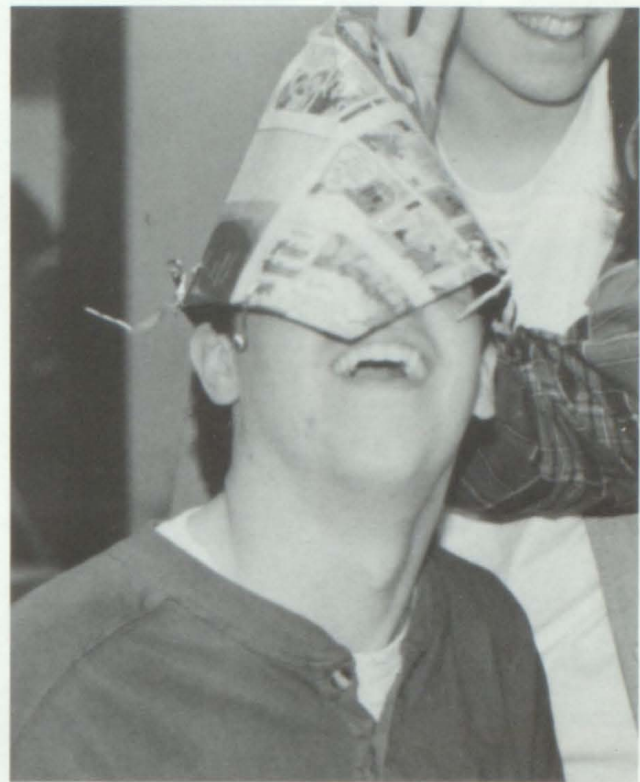

Editors (sort of)

Well, this certainly has been an interesting year. It has been an honor to be the Co-Editor of the 1996 Schola. A big thanks to everyone who has played either a small or large part in the making of this book. Each person that has helped in any way has worked hard to make this yearbook the best that it can be; through all the trouble of getting a staff, getting this edition off the ground, nearly missing deadlines, and pulling my hair out, we have persevered through it all to deliver the best quality book possible. I look forward to next year and all the challenges that it has to offer. To all the seniors who are leaving the rest of us behind, Good Luck!!! Remember, the memories that are stored here will last a lifetime, so cherish them.

Know this: yearbooks are spawning grounds for papercuts. With this in mind, don't frown to severely upon the occasional bloodstains you may find marring our otherwise perfect pages — accidents happen, and it's actually not always a bad thing. One example of this could be the selection of me to edit this year's yearbook. Though I'm sure there were a lot of very angry people when it was first made know that Jamie Gordon had somehow blundered his way on to the yearbook staff, they probably aren't too upset now, because they know that I'm graduating and thusly can't do too much more damage.

I sincerely hope that all of you who've been suckered into purchasing this yearbook enjoy it, or at least hate it enough to take pleasure in ridiculing it. There are a lot of names that should be mentioned here because they've all helped me immensely, but this is my little section, and I want to soak up as much credit and well-deserved awe as I can. Take a minute or two to make sure you fully realize the extent of my talent, virtuosity, etc., and move on to the rest of the book; either that or close the book because this page is the last thing you looked at. (I'm much better looking than this picture shows.)

Nothing Gold Can Stay

Nature's first green is gold,
Her hardest hue to hold.
Her early leaf's a flower;
But only so an hour.
Then leaf subsides to leaf.
So Eden sank to grief,
So dawn goes down to day.
Nothing gold can stay.

Civilized people depend too much on man made printed pages. I turn to the great spirit's book which is the whole of creation. You can read a big part of that book if you study nature. You know, if you take all your books, lay them out under the sun, and let the snow and the rain ans insects work on them for a while, there will be nothing left. But the Great Spirit has provided you and me with an opportunity to study in nature's university the forests, the rivers, and mountains ans the animals which include us.

Once upon a time there was a kid. He was a normal kid (most of the time) and enjoyed having so ME fun. He and his friends would occasionally meet at the golf course (A little later than most) for a game. Sometimes (rarely according to her) he would spend some quality time with his girlfriend. At nights, after school, when he wasn't hacking with his sidekick DEMENTO, he usually took a little dip. He worked at the movie theater (mostly for the free movie) and loved Pulp Fiction. His time will come and so will his movie. "The president is a monkey." — Quentin Tarnantino (my only God) I'm gonna' win.

There is peace and harmony which transcends all other forms of modern education. When this door is unlocked, so is the door which leads to the true nature of learning; the mind, the body, and the soul. Spirituality is the key that unlocks this door, and unleashes the astounding will of perceptual oblivion. Thats when learning has no definitive meaning. Most people can find this door very quickly, as I have seen, but others will secretly struggle to even understand its concept. These are the ones for whom I pray with solace & sympathy. Though they take no pure shape, they have my luv.

Remember the innocence of youth for it is now shadowed by age. And remember the times of fun, for now they are fewer in #. But lest us not forget the time we spend in happiness, because these are the times that we can always create and cherish. Thank you to all of you whom who added to my life the happiness, fun, youth, and growth that we are all filled with. And thank you especially to my friends and family for playing an intrical part in the happiness and growth of my life. Thank You Although it may be cloudy, the sun still shines. Let us not be sad because we can't see the sun. But let us be happy because we can see the clouds, and under them the world in a new and different light.

Handle them carefully, for words have more power than atom bombs. Those who make the worst use of their time are the first to complain of its shortness. It's over and done with, almost. School has been long and hard, but life will be long only if you struggle through it, so make the best out of what people throw at you. Thanks to everyone who has helped me. It has been worth it. I cannot begin to tell you anything about life except for the machine that awaits is only a trap. The walls we created to only confuse simple thoughts. The times have faded of innocent play. And into the world we are obscured. By mans intent that we do not understand. And to all of you that believed, and to all of them who thought they knew me, forget . . . Cs I hold you in my thoughts forever EA

Jeffery Norsworthy

There are only a few people that I want to mention and most of them are freshman. The first is Jon, always remember that you are to big for the Thank you bin. To Dan, beware of those vicious articles penguins. To Joey, I hope that you learn your birthdate, then you can teach Jon how to spell Gorham. I have these words of wisdom for all human nature classes, 1. Mr. Carter is always wrong, and 2. the answer is provided by Douglas Adams as 42, so use it. Finally to everyone that I've ever wanted to, I'll leave you with these words for V.O.L. I could told you, you were on the wrong track.

Other Senior Class Members: David Compton, Mark Currie, Steve Johnson, Leah Morton, and Shawn White.

Randy —

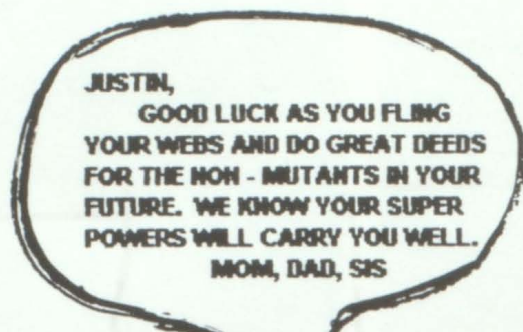

To the best son ever. We are very proud of you — we wish you much love, success, and happiness.

Congratulations. We love you.

JUSTIN,
GOOD LUCK AS YOU FLING
YOUR WEBS AND DO GREAT DEEDS FOR THE NON - MUTANTS IN YOUR FUTURE. WE KNOW YOUR SUPER POWERS WILL CARRY YOU WELL.
MOM, DAD, SIS

You have brains in your head
You have feet in your shoes
You can steer yourself any direction you choose
You won't lag behind, because you'll have the speed

You'll pass the whole gang and you'll soon have the lead Wherever you fly, you'll be the best of the best
Wherever you go, you will top all the rest
So Jackie you're off to great places
Today is your day and your mountain is waiting
So get on your way

Love Mom, Dad and Jude

To Susan Pages, our very special Exchange Student from Germany:

You flew into our home like an angel from above, with your beautiful smile and the grace of a dove.

Your endless energy and many talents, as well as the dedication you have shown to your studies, have been inspirational. I'm so very proud of you, Susan!

You've been such a special gift in many ways, touching my life from day to day.

I've enjoyed the time we've shared together, and as you fly away to your home and loved ones, a piece of you will always remain in my thoughts and in my heart. I also hope you always have love, health and happiness in your life, and success in your chosen profession. I know you will succeed in whatever you attempt. Your parents were truly blessed to have you as a daughter, and just as proud, I'm sure.

Always remember thee, for our paths again shall cross, and together again we will be!

Best wishes Susan, with love from your host mom, Janet. xoxo

N.A.W.

You know you have truly Reached adulthood when You have to let go of your Child so he can find
His own way in life.

The only force that eases
Any sadness in that moment
Is the enduring friendship and Love that we have built and Nurtured over a lifetime.

D.E.W.

Christopher,

You're a grandson
any grandparent would be proud to call theirs. God Bless You, Our Love Always.

Nana & Papa

Katie Em,
Here's to lights and virtues
Here's to truths yet to be known
Knowledge to light and darkness
The search for things of your own

Here's to lights and virtues
Here's to reaching the higher ground
A life of hope and purpose
Here's to strengths yet to be found

To the Class of 1996 (aka Class from Hell)

Wons up on at ime . . .

In the years between 1976-1978 God got mad at humanity. In response to the invention of republicans, communism, and the atomic bomb, God produced what would become the Class of 1996 at Gorham High School. They descended, from near and far, like locusts upon the unknowing citizens of Gorham. Once a tight-knit community consisting of a dozen or so families, Gorham rapidly expanded into a town in need of "don't walk" signs, pollution ordinances, and a police force — the latter resulting in an immediate and ever-increasing demand for donuts at all the local stores.

The influx of "special" children into Gorham was not all bad; jobless parole officers suddenly had guaranteed employment if they knew where to go, as were those known to be handy with a stun gun.

As Gorham's unruly mob grew, matured (sort of), and graduated from class to class, word of mouth spread among each successive set of teachers, and thusly so did a sense of impending doom in those who had yet to experience them in the classroom. By the time they had reached high school, the class of '96 was commonly referred to as the "Class from Hell".

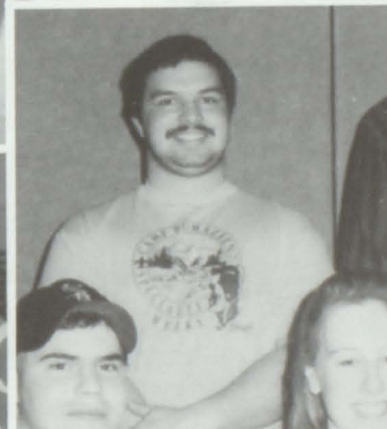

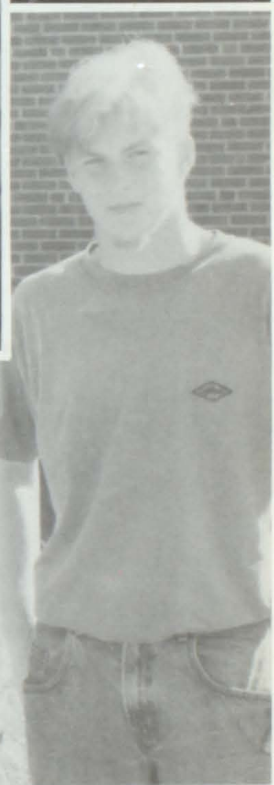

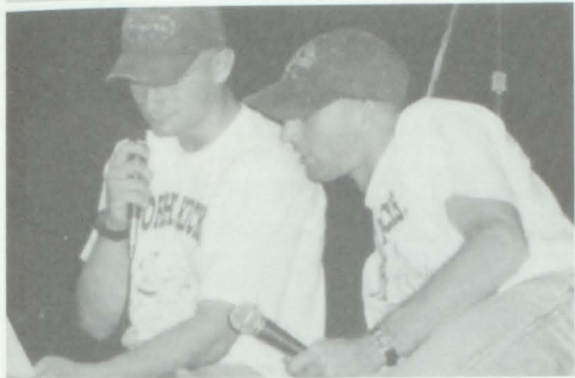

This class of Hellions wasn't all bad; they had a pretty good basketball team and a great ice hockey team, but as the years went by their reputation for some reason did not improve. Teachers retired, new ones took their place. A new school was built, new teaching methods and new requirements appeared, but as the class of '96 persevered so did their name.

We class officers, as one of our many time wasting devices, discussed this last fact at length during our meetings. We've decided that people have simply been leaving a few words out of our title as people are want to do sometimes when they don't want to take the time to say the whole thing — this is how nicknames develop. We are, more officially, "The Class That's Been Through Hell" — and not only lived to tell the tale, but to graduate high school.

So as we graduate and leave our labels behind, bear in mind the fact that if we can make it through this we can make it through anything. And we, your class reps, want to say, as we all head out to face the big ugly world, "Give 'em Hell!"

WE MADE IT!

WINTER CARNIVAL

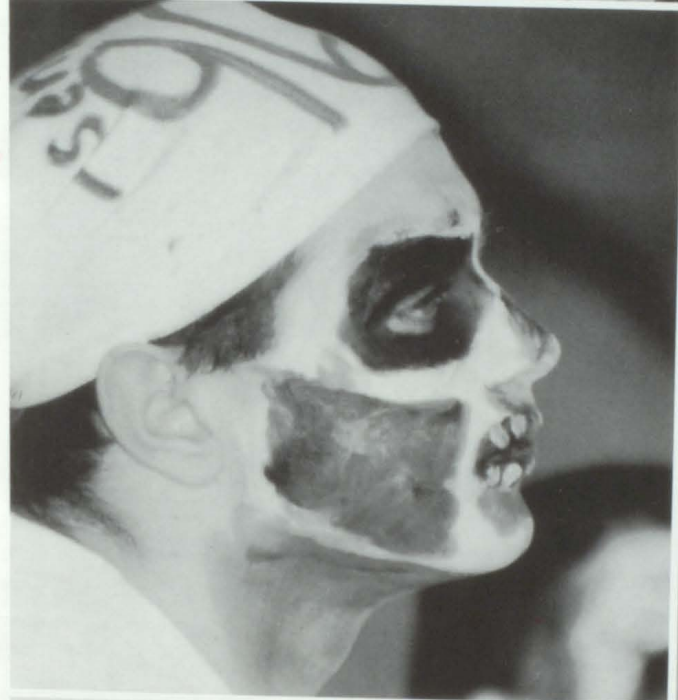

Winter Carnival was a huge success this year. Taking place on February 14, there were many things to be done. National Honor Society was busy before school getting carnations ready to be delivered at 9:10, during homeroom in the gymnasium as part of their February fund raiser. Even our photographer was there to catch every one in the act of experiencing a unique Valentine's Day.

There were many activities planned by student council; limbo, basketball, floor hockey, volleyball, face painting, jeopardy, board games, ping pong, The Great Race, and a pep rally. A day filled with excitement, and certainly not a lack of school spirit.

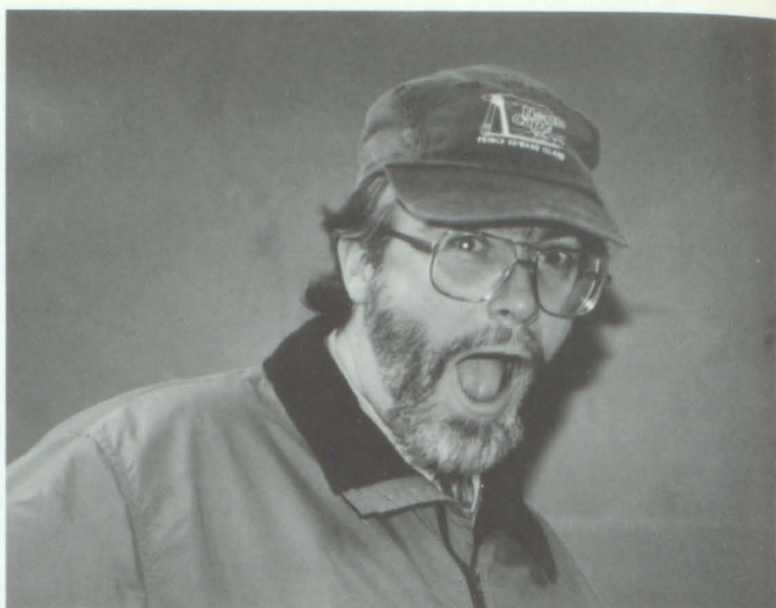

Seniors, the "Class From Hell", had finally won fair and square. Juniors came in a close second place, and behind them the ever growing Sophomore and Freshman classes. The focus of Winter Carnival is to boost over all school spirit just before tourney time, get out of class work, and have a fun day.

Barbershop

Pat Bittner, Al Charron, Sebastian Clegg, Matt Frizzell, Brandon Hale, Brian Huynh, Ben Jacobs, Andrew Palmer, Derek Racine, Randy Thurston, Tod VanZandt, Mike Begley, Chris Cloutier, Gerry Cole, Ben Esty, Quinton Johnson, Jason Leon, Chris Loughan, Jamie Matthews, Nick Matthews, Chris Sedenka, Ryan Brady, Ethan Burns, Peter Charron, Mike Francis, Ryan Gould, Chris Isaacson, Kyle Kirby, TJ McLeod, Chad Wilson, Brian O'Coin, and Jason Schneider.

The Barbershop Chorus was started two years ago as an extension of the choral offerings at GHS. The Treble Choir was started last year by Beth Clark ('95). Both groups meet for 45 minutes on Wednesday evenings and are open to any one who wants to sing in the ensembles; no experience is necessary. Both groups also perform regularly through-out the year; one of which being the Barbershop extravaganza in March. You could say that it is a "meeting of the voices", many barbershop chorus' and quartets sing at the event.

Chamber Singers

The Chamber Singers is a 32 member, mixed vocal ensemble for the most highly motivated, talented, and experienced singers in the school. The ensemble meets each day during school as well as Wednesday evenings for sectionals. The ensemble strives to perform music of all styles at the highest level of proficiency. They give concerts frequently through out the year both in and out of school. Singers are chosen in April through a vocal audition that measures singing ability, sight reading skills, and basic music proficiency. Any student in grades 8 — 11 is eligible to try for the following year. The group is completely re-auditioned each year, and membership one year does not guarantee membership the following year.

The group has proved itself to be very successful over the past few years, receiving many awards both here in the United States, and internationally in Canada in 1994.

The Choral is a non-auditioned vocal ensemble and is open for any one to join. The group too has also competed and has been successful in bringing home awards. Over the past year the Chorus has grown and improved greatly. The Chorus puts on many concerts during the year including the winter concert, A Concert of Verse and Song, All Gorham Concert, the Pops Concert in the spring, and in March an exchange with another school is planned. In this event, students will have the opportunity to see other High School students, like themselves, perform.

Let's assume, for a moment, that there is no fate;
No force but yourself to guide you;
No limits to the highs and lows you experience.

You are the master of your own being.

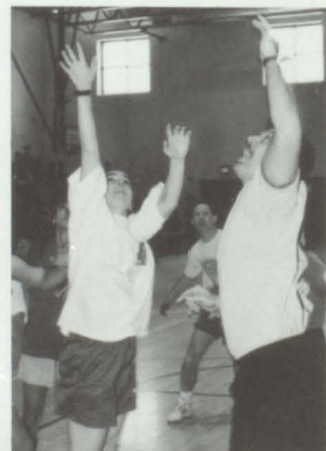

Would you still go to the bar after work?
Deny your inclinations?
Ignore your curiosities?
Let yourself go?
Cower?
Be afraid?
Let life trample you to death?

Or would you live?
Wake up;
Take the day off;
Find out;
Be heard;
Kick butt;
Look destiny in the eye, and spit.

Where your body takes you is up to your mind; make yours up.

Just do it.

Brian,
Where did the years go? We are very proud of you, and love you very much.
Love,
Mom, Dad, and Tricia

Congratulations Gregg.
We are so proud of you.
Love,

Congratulations Craig and Curt!
We are so proud and wish you each success.
"May good fortune be with you and your guiding light be strong.
Be courageous and be brave, and in our hearts you'll always remain . . .
forever young. But whatever you choose,
we're right behind you, win or lose . . .
forever young." — Rod Stewart
With all our love and support, Mom and Dad

Donna,
I hope the only crying that we see now are tears of joy. You make me very proud to say you are my sister. Love, Chris. From your "Buddy" Wayne — "Congratulations". "Reach for the stars". "Reach for your dreams": Love from "Maizie". "Never settle for second best, your worth a lot more. Work hard at what you do, people notice. Remember your life is what you make it. May yours be very happy. I love you." your sister, Gail. From baby tears to senior years we've gone the road together. We wish you Luck, we wish you Joy, we wish you a happy future forever.

We are so very proud.
Congratulations — Class of '96!

Inspid we are not.

We are vibrance,
we are restless,
we are You,
as you once were,
or soon will be.

Yes we question your authority,

as we begin to assert our own.
And in the process
we infuriate and confuse and sadden and over-joy
every last one of you
as we set off,
our Class of '96,
to find out.

Jamie Gordon

To Jamie, on Graduation

We did not say you were - inspid.
Perhaps we inferred it once or twice.

When we were urging you on towards your - POTENTIAL.

For, after all, we are your parents.
We HOPE against the odds.

That the higher mountains you scale will be - HIGHER. But, the climb less arduous.

That the joys you experience will be - GREATER. But, the sorrows smaller.

And, when in that future day, you-
REFLECT upon your child.

You will remember that your parents - LOVED YOU for what you are.

Mom and Dad
March, 1996

A Parent's Response

Yes, as your parents

we have ridden
the high and low tides of emotion engulfing

your birth,
your childhood,
and your adolescence.

And we have done so with love,

trust,
and the faith that when your time comes to embark,

as it has now,

you will seek and you will find out.

We wish you our best,
offer our continued love
and support,

and say to you,

Just do it.

The parents of Jamie Gordon
